Head of Argentina Flees as Pro-Allied Militia Takes Over

General Rawson Sets Up Government, Arrests Pro-Axis Former Governor

BUENOS AIRES, June 4 (AP).—Argentine troops led by the pro-Allied Gen. Arturo Rawson revolted against the Isolationist regime of President Castillo today, and swiftly set up a provisional military Government in a relatively bloodless coup.

One of the first acts of the new regime was to arrest a prominent pro-Axis Nationalist. Other arrests were expected.

Castillo and most of his Cabinet fled aboard the gunboat Drummond which steamed up the Rio de la Plata at dawn to anchor at a naval base. From there Castillo began issuing proclamations defying the insurgents.

Gen. Rawson and Gen. Pedro Ramirez, Castillo's Minister of War who broke with the Conservative president, were the apparent leaders of the revolt, and they were greeted by popular demonstrations and cries of "Viva la Democracia" upon entering the capital with 7,000 troops.

DOMINANT FIGURE STILL NOT CLEAR

But it still was not clear who was the dominant figure in the uprising against the Castillo Government which had been the only one in all America to maintain relations with Germany, Italy and Japan.

Rawson appeared tonight on the balcony of Government House and was greeted by crowds cheering him as "head of the victorious revolution."

The reasons for the revolt were not immediately apparent, although Rawson issued a proclamation which said:

". . . This movement is only aimed to guarantee the safety of the people and our nation without any political leaning."

Rawson told the crowd gathered beneath Government House balcony that the movement had the support of the national navy and that it was merely fulfilling constitutional duties to "assure respect for insti-

De Gaulle and Giraud Broadcast

ALGIERS, June 4 (AP).—Generals Charles de Gaulle and Henri Giraud, addressing the French people by radio tonight, stressed the unity of the French war effort and called on them to support the new French Committee for National Liberation.

In his broadcast speech, De Gaulle said the "only issue is the crushing of the enemy." Giraud declared that "unity is a victory for us; for the Germans it is a defeat."

Giraud denounced the "little handful of traitors which deliberately played into the enemy's hand," but asserted that among the French were many whose failure was "not so much to do their duty as to know where their duty lay."

Other soldiers had fought against the German armistice commissions, had hidden armaments in Africa and when the Allied landing came had joined in the fight and eventually whole German divisions surrendered to them. Continuing, Giraud declared:

ARMY WAITING TO RISE UP

"And there is the army of all France—hostages and saboteurs—an army waiting to rise up. And there is the army of prisoners—my old comrades—who keep faith, hope and confidence in their hearts."

In political quarters it was considered likely that a war cabinet would be formed within the committee similar to the British setup. This inner group, it was said, would consist of Giraud, De Gaulle, Gen. Georges Catroux, Jean Monnet and Rene Massigli.

Thirteen Killed

DUNEDIN, N.Z., June 4 (CP).—Thirteen persons were killed and more than forty injured when a crack passenger train was derailed at Hyde today. The wreck was one of the worst in New Zealand's railroad history.

The engine left the rails while rounding a curve and the cars, laden with more than 500 passengers, telescoped.

Miners to Work Again On Monday

Lewis Yields to War Labor Board

WASHINGTON, June 4 (AP).—John L. Lewis yielded to the United States Government today and called off the coal strike, effective next Monday, the deadline set by President Roosevelt.

The end came suddenly as the Government marshaled its powers to terminate the 500,000-man walkout threatening to paralyze war production. Told bluntly by Interior Secretary Harold L. Ickes that "I expect that you will direct the members of the United Mine Workers to return to work," Lewis sent this reply:

"I have your letter of June 4.

"I have no power to direct. I shall, however, recommend to the policy committee of the United Mine Workers of America that it direct the mine workers to return to work on Monday, June 7."

A short time later he made the recommendation and the policy committee unanimously adopted it.

LEWIS ACCUSES WAR LABOR BOARD

Lewis did not let the occasion pass, however, without another denunciation of the War Labor Board, which he has refused to recognize during the long wage dispute. In a speech to the policy committee, Lewis accused the board of adopting a "piously arrogant" attitude, and of issuing "unlawful directives."

"These little strutting men of the W.L.B. have sought to place upon the miners the responsibility for this work stoppage, which rests actually on their own smug shoulders," he said.

With that statement, there was ended for the Government a tense period of crisis which set in yesterday when President Roosevelt, as wartime commander in chief, issued an order directing the miners to return to work on Monday.

It marked the end, too, of a personal struggle between the President and Lewis, one-time political allies turned enemies, and a major triumph for the President's War Labor Board which had demanded a policy of "getting tough" with Lewis rather than making any concessions.

Report Mandel Dead in Prison

NEW YORK, June 4 (AP).—Georges Mandel, the French Cabinet minister who was popularly believed to have more secret information on French politicians than any man in the world, was reported dead in a German prison, an N.B.C. dispatch from Switzerland said tonight. Mandel, who would have been fifty-eight tomorrow, was doubly hated by the Germans as a Jew and as a strong French politician who long opposed them.

The Government of Marshal Petain clapped him in jail along with Gen. Maurice Gamelin and former Premiers Leon Blum and Paul Reynaud. Mandel finally fell into German hands when the occupation line was overrun last November and was transferred to Germany. He had an amazing memory and kept many secret dossiers.

Born Jeroboam Rothschild in a Paris suburb, Mandel entered politics as secretary to France's First Great War Premier, Georges Clemenceau.

Warned Against Expected Flood

WINNIPEG, June 4 (CP).—Residents along the Winnipeg River have been warned to take steps to protect their property against flood conditions, a bulletin issued by the Manitoba Department of Mines and Natural Resources stated today. Heavy rainfalls in recent days have seriously raised the levels in the river's waterhead which was the reason for the warning.

Churchill In London

LONDON, June 5 (Saturday) (AP).—Prime Minister Winston Churchill has returned from his conferences in Washington with President Roosevelt, it was announced early today.

An announcement from No. 10 Downing Street said he had returned at daylight today.

The Prime Minister was accompanied by Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and the Chief of the Imperial General Staff, Lieut. Gen. Sir John Dill.

The Prime Minister flew from the United States to Gibraltar, and then visited the headquarters of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower in Algiers.

He was joined by Eden and together they visited Tunis and the British and United States armies in Northwest Africa.

Their stay ended yesterday when the newly-formed French provisional Government lunched with them, it was announced.

No. 10 Downing Street said:

"Yesterday Admiral Cunningham, commander in chief in the Mediterranean, gave a luncheon at which Generals Giraud and De Gaulle and the whole new French Committee for National Liberation met the Prime Minister and Foreign Secretary. Proceedings were most cordial."

TORRANCE, Calif., June 4 (AP).—Lieut. Lou Zamperini, one of the best distance runners who ever performed for the University of Southern California, has been missing since May 27 in the South Pacific war theatre, his mother, Mrs. Anthony Zamperini, was notified today from Washington.

Bombers and Warships Continue to Bombard Fortified Pantelleria

Naples Plastered With Explosives by R.A.F. Wellingtons—Docks and Industrial Area Hit

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, June 4 (AP).—Allied bombers kept the Italian outpost Isle of Pantelleria under day-long assault yesterday, climaxing a week in which British warships shelled the island four times and air units pounded it ceaselessly in addition to plastering Naples with bombs. All this was accomplished without a single Allied loss.

Britain's naval craft followed up shattering aerial bombardments of Pantelleria on Monday and Tuesday nights by shelling the island Wednesday night and again Thursday morning, it was announced officially today.

While the R.A.F. was hammering the fortress island Tuesday night, R.A.F. Wellingtons roared to the Italian mainland and dumped 4,000 and 2,000-pound bombs on the docks and industrial area at Naples, already punished severely in recent daylight raids by Flying Fortresses.

Big Bombers Pound Wewak Base Again

Drop Eighteen Tons Of Explosives

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, June 5 (Saturday) (CP).—Resuming an aerial offensive which had been stalled by bad weather, Allied bombers yesterday dropped eighteen tons of bombs on Wewak, New Guinea, the High Command announced.

This brought to 174 tons the total of bombs dropped in seven raids on Wewak and Lae. Yesterday's raid was the fourth since May 27 on Wewak during which the total tonnage dropped was seventy-four. One hundred tons have been dropped in three raids on Lae.

Ranging 750 miles north of Australia to Babo in the MacCleur Gulf of Dutch New Guinea, medium bombers started fires which could be seen for forty miles.

The latest raid on Wewak, an airdrome and supply base of the enemy 450 miles northwest of Allied-held Port Moresby, started a series of explosions.

BOMBERS SMASH AT TIMOR ISLAND

To the northwest of Australia, the island of Timor was raided by medium bombers which struck at night at Kupang and Lautem.

The raiders of Babo, medium units, attacked the airdrome, seaplane base, barracks and dispersal areas. The big fire was believed to be a fuel dump.

The fire was so great that it illuminated the Allied planes at 9,000 feet.

Smaller fires around the airdrome struck at the Wewak area, raiding airdromes at Wewak, Boram and Dagua before dawn. The explosions and fires resulting indicated destruction and damage to grounded aircraft, fuel and ammunition dumps. Both Liberators and Flying Fortress participated.

Russians in Air Raid on Large Scale

Little Action On Land Front

LONDON, June 4 (CP).—A raid by 520 Russian bombers on German-held Orel, south of Moscow, in which it was reported that only a single Soviet plane was lost, was reported tonight by the Moscow radio. The midnight communique of the Soviet Command again mentioned no action of consequence anywhere on the Russian land front.

The communique, as broadcast by the Moscow radio and recorded here by the Soviet monitor, made no mention of the Velizh sector between Smolensk and Velikie Luki, west of Moscow, where the German radio earlier had reported that a strong Russian offensive action was under way.

This German account asserted that three Russian infantry divisions and a reinforced tank brigade, perhaps a total of 50,000 men, had attacked repeatedly, and conceded a break-through behind the main German defences, although implying that this success was not exploited.

The thrust, said the broadcast, had been made in "an attempt to clear the way for the Russian rifle divisions, but in a counter-attack the Russian riflemen were overrun."

Wood Fuel Control Will Be Separate

OTTAWA, June 4 (CP).—The Munitions Department announced tonight establishment of a new wood fuel control with James Stedman Whalley, of Winnipeg, as wood fuel controller.

The announcement said this step to relieve the coal control of responsibility for wood fuel had been taken because of the serious fuel shortage.

It added that D. Roy Cameron, deputy wood fuel controller, for some time has been under pressure from the Mines and Resources Department to resume his peacetime post as Dominion forester. It said establishment of the new control will make this possible.

G. C. Piche continues as deputy wood fuel controller and as such is transferred from the coal control of the new control.

Mr. Whalley, born in Liverpool, England, in 1887, has been head of the farm supplies and fuel department of the United Grain Growers Limited since 1922. Prior to that he was sixteen years with the T. Eaton Company, Winnipeg.

THE TIMES, London

News and Comment on International Events selected from The Times daily and published in The Daily Colonist by special arrangement with The Vancouver Daily Province.

(Copyright, 1943, by Southam Co.)

LONDON, June 4.—Agreement has been reached in Algiers between Generals de Gaulle and Giraud to constitute a French committee for national liberation which will control all French forces and all French territories freed from the enemy. The committee also takes charge of all French interests throughout the world, as well as direction of France's war efforts.

In the reshuffle of public appointments thus necessitated in North Africa those who have been closely associated with the Vichy Government in the past have been displaced. Gen. Catroux, to whose tact and ability success of the negotiations between the two generals is largely due, becomes Governor-General of Algiers, and Gen. Nogues, resident general, gives place to the former high commissioner for Syria, Monsier Puaux.

According to the terms of the agreement, says The Times' Algiers correspondent, the French Committee for Liberation will hand over its powers to the provisional government when that body is constituted after the Germans are driven from France. The committee takes a solemn oath to re-establish all French liberties and the laws of the French Republic under a republican form of government, and to destroy the present Vichy dictatorship and all exercise of arbitrary power.

When the Liberation Committee is fully established, says The Times' correspondent, it will be for the United Nations to decide what degree of diplomatic recognition is to be accorded it. However, there can be no full de jure recognition until the French people themselves express their will through constitutional channels.

Capt. Harold MacMillan, as British representative, in an interview, said the Allies' three purposes now are, first, to maintain French territories in a state to wage war; secondly, to assist French forces to carry on the fight and, thirdly, to assist, as far as possible, in rebuilding France, subject to the one con-

Japanese Retreat In Near-Rout While Chinese Push On

River Port of Owchichkow and More Than Ten Other Towns Taken

CHUNGKING, June 5 (Saturday) (AP).—The Chinese armies have thrown almost the last of the Japanese invaders out of the area north of Lake Tungting by reaching the river port of Owchichkow and have swept into Yangchi on the Yangtze to the north, Gen. Chiang Kai-Shek's Command announced today.

Ansiang, ten miles west of the previously reoccupied Japanese stronghold of Nanhsien on Lake Tungting, also has fallen to Chinese arms, it was added, most of the Japanese troops there having been annihilated.

Along the upper part of the front, Chinese columns at last report had entered the Japanese river base of Itu in pursuit of Japanese forces seeking to cross there in their disorderly retreat in the Hupeh Province.

The position in the whole area south of the Yangtze between Tungting Lake and Ichang, the principal Japanese base, thus underwent a transformation, the Chinese retrieving a still expanding section of China's rice bowl.

MIGHT CUT-OFF WARSHIPS' RETREAT

Particular importance was attached here to the penetration to Awchichkow, for it appeared that the Chinese might be able to cut off the retreat of Japanese warships, including the Yangtze flagship, which had steamed into that area before the Chinese comeback.

Chinese announcement described the Japanese flight as a rout which was being punished by Allied airmen who kept the Yangtze crossing under powerful assault.

Japanese communications to Ichang were in danger of total disruption by the entry into Itu and the earlier fall of Chihkiang, itself thirty-five miles below Ichang.

More than half the 4,000 Japanese troops surrounded near Itu were officially declared wiped out.

The recapture of Nanhsien, at the northern shore of Lake Tungting, ninety-five miles to the southeast of Itu, was accompanied by the fall to the advancing Chinese of ten towns in the Hunan-Hupeh Provinces border region.

Homes Hit By German Airplanes

Strafe Streets in Raid on England

LONDON, June 5 (Saturday) (CP).—High explosives were dropped in one London district early today by an enemy plane which sent the anti-aircraft defences into action.

Heavy gunfire was heard in some sections of the metropolitan area, but the all clear was sounded within a short time.

Other enemy raiders appeared over western districts during the night. Houses were reported damaged by high explosives dropped on a West England town and incendiaries were dumped on one place in the Midlands.

It was reported that R.A.F. fighter planes downed one Focke-Wulf, another was hit by anti-aircraft fire and a third was knocked down by ground guns. A fourth was believed damaged. One crashed into the bay near Bexhill.

SWEEP LOW AND STRAFE STREETS

Witnesses said the planes swept low, strafing the streets. Several buses were hit but the occupants had all taken cover.

One enemy fighter was destroyed when the R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. engaged in a sweep over Northern France yesterday.

The Air Ministry announced that Spitfire squadrons attacked and damaged three enemy E-boats off The Netherlands coast yesterday and that one R.C.A.F. plane was missing after the operation.

Lying under the bushes in his garden, the vicar of a church on the southeast coast saw his church wrecked by a delayed-action bomb during a daylight raid by twelve German fighter-bombers, at least three of which were destroyed.

One Focke-Wulf was downed by fighters and two by anti-aircraft gunners. A fourth was damaged by a fighter.

Five persons were known to have been killed and a number injured as the raiders strafed the streets and scattered their bombs, hitting a number of buildings.

Earth Shocks Felt In Nova Scotia

YARMOUTH, N.S., June 4 (CP).—A series of moderate earth shocks rattled buildings in Yarmouth and Shelburn Counties tonight, but no damage was reported and there were no casualties.

Homes were jolted severely enough to awaken sleeping persons.

Between five and seven shocks were counted, starting just before 11 p.m., A.D.T., and continuing at regular intervals for forty-five minutes. The most severe came at 11:16 p.m.

Corvette Breaks U-Boat's Back in Convoy Battle

LONDON, June 4 (CP).—How the British corvette Sunflower, captained by a Canadian and with at least one other Canadian in her crew, broke the back of a German submarine when the corvette rammed the U-boat on the last night of an eight-day convoy battle in the Atlantic was told today.

Four U-boats were sunk and six others probably were destroyed in the action, the Admiralty has announced.

The Sunflower was officially credited with destruction of one U-boat, which Lieut. Jim Plomer, thirty-one-year-old sailor from Winnipeg and Saint John, N.B., captain of the corvette, said his ship rammed while sailing faster than she ever had sailed before.

The crash flung members of the crew to the deck. The stern of the stricken U-boat nosed up at a 45-degree angle, so close to the Sunflower that Chief Stoker D. B. Kelman, a Canadian, said, "we could easily have touched them with our hands."

Members of the crew on the other side of the corvette saw the broken back of the submarine in its entirety. She had been rammed just abaft the conning tower. None of her crew got out.

Until last September Plomer had commanded a mine sweeper clearing the English Channel and escorting coastal shipping.

Because of lack of action, Plomer applied for a corvette and obtained it within a few months. A native of South Africa, he went to Canada seventeen years ago, where he joined the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve in 1932. Shortly after the war started he was loaned to the Royal Navy.

Maori Hero Awarded V.C. After Death

LONDON, June 4 (CP).—The Victoria Cross has been awarded posthumously to Kosna-Nui-a-Kiwa Ngarimu, young New Zealand Maori lieutenant who during the Battle of Tunisia held an important hill position almost alone all one night and fought the enemy hand to hand until he was finally killed as he stood defiantly firing a tommygun from the hip.

The official account of his heroic leadership of an Allied platoon in the action at Tebaga Cape March 26 was published in The London Gazette which said: "So fierce was the struggle that Ngarimu fell on the bodies of the men he had killed and wounded."

He personally wiped out two enemy machine-gun posts, the citation said, "and those of the enemy he did not kill he drove back with stones and his tommygun."

The award was the sixty-fifth V.C. of the war and the sixth to a New Zealander, but the first to a Maori.

Leave Work to Seek More Pay

WINNIPEG, June 4 (CP).—Two hundred moulders and foundry workers of the plant of the Vulcan Iron Works in North Winnipeg resigned their jobs today, union officials said.

Union officers said the men would march tomorrow to the downtown office of the National Selective Service to demand their release slips so they could seek jobs with higher pay.

James Grimes, general agent of the union—Moulders and Foundry Workers' Union, Local 174 (A.F.L.)—said that the men are not on strike. They have resigned their jobs, he said.

Missed Hitler

LONDON, June 5 (Saturday) (CP).—The London Daily Sketch reported today that Hitler missed by ten minutes an explosion which wrecked a French railway line near Laon when Hitler was returning from a visit to his "Atlantic wall" in Brittany recently.

The newspaper, quoting a neutral source, said that Hitler, who was accompanied by Field Marshal Karl Von Runstedt, Admiral Karl Doenitz, and Gestapo Chief Heinrich Himmler, was forced to leave the train and travel by motor car.

More and More Bombs to Be Delivered to Germans Soon

Air Chief Marshal Courtney Says Reich Is Getting Worse Now Than Britain Ever Got

OTTAWA, June 4 (CP).—Air Chief Marshal Sir Christopher Lloyd Courtney, of the R.A.F., said today that Germany now is suffering an aerial pounding heavier than Britain had to endure and that "the bombing is nothing like at its peak."

"The Empire and the United States are going to deliver more and more in the way of bomb power," he said. "Right now, the United States is striking by day, and the R.A.F. and the R.C.A.F. are striking by night.

"While we have not reached an around-the-clock basis, we look forward to it."

Asked about the possibility of air raids on Canada, the air chief marshal said: "It's quite possible. Germany has planes that could do it. Death-or-glory crews could bomb Canada and then remain here as guests for the duration. Precautions can't be relaxed."

Sir Christopher is in Ottawa for conferences in connection with his post as air member for supply and organization.

DOING WELL AGAINST SUBMARINES

Sir Christopher said air power is doing well in anti-submarine work.

"We are striving towards the day when every convoy will be covered all the way across the ocean," he said. "We have learned a great deal about how to beat submarines in the last six months. The situation is much better now than it was a year ago. Methods have improved too—depth bombs, location and things like that."

Sir Christopher was here in 1939 to help lay the foundation for the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan.

"When the agreement was reached with the Canadian Government three and one-half years ago we could only see the outlines," he said. "Now it is magnificent. The plan is the lifeblood of the Empire's air power."

New Firearm Light, Deadly

BB Gun Gave Idea For Yard-Long Rifle

PORT CLINTON, Ohio, June 4 (AP).—The BB gun, a toy with which most boys have riddled empty tomato cans, provided ordnance and industrial gun designers with the idea for one of the United States army's newest weapons.

The new firearm—a vicious 30-caliber carbine combining lightness, fire power and accuracy up to about 2,000 yards—was demonstrated to newsmen for the first time today by the United States War Department's Cleveland Ordnance District. Production now is nearing full scale.

ONLY THIRTY-SIX INCHES IN LENGTH

The carbine is a short-barreled rifle, only thirty-six inches long. Like the BB gun, it weighs less than six pounds, including strap and cartridge clip.

It spits fifteen high-velocity slugs from one clip with deadly accuracy. The velocity of its bullets at fifty-three feet from the muzzle is 1,900 feet per second.

"In combat it has been the best weapon for the individual ever turned out," says Col. Forrest C. Shaffer, commanding officer of nearby proving ground.

The new weapon rapily is replacing the .45-caliber pistol as a standard sidearm, the colonel says. Easy to handle, it can be fired "commando style" from the hip or from the shoulder.

Officers See Film of Raid on Spitzbergen

Two lecturers, Major-General A. E. Potts, C.B.E., E.D., and F. C. Green, surveyor-general for British Columbia, have appeared before the United Services Institution recently, it was reported by Capt. W. Ellis, secretary, following the half-yearly meeting of the executive council of the institution.

The raid on Spitzbergen was described by General Potts, who had command of the expedition. He emphasized the fine co-operation between the various services taking part, and showed moving pictures of the raid to the audience of active and retired officers.

Transportation routes in Northern British Columbia were described by Mr. Green, in regard to developments now taking place in that area and their effect on the future of the province.

District 3—A class for instruction in war gases will be given in the Quadra School by Deputy District Wardens O. E. Day and J. T. Gawthrop on Monday for all wardens in posts "A" and "B," and on Monday, June 14, for posts "C" and "D," commencing at 7:30 p.m.

District 11—A meeting will be held at Margaret Jenkins School at 8 p.m. on Tuesday at which training plans for the future will be discussed. A district practice scheme will be carried out within the next two weeks, based on the sector training for the past month. Tuesday's general meeting will be the last for some time, unless a special meeting is required.

Twenty-Five Airmen Win Commissions

OTTAWA, June 4 (CP).—Air Force headquarters announced tonight that twenty-five members of R.C.A.F. air crew serving overseas, all of them graduates of the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan, have been commissioned in the field for efficiency meritorious service and leadership qualities.

The list includes the name of Flt. Sgt. (now P.O.) Robert Leslie Spence, D.F.M., of Highgate, Ont., now in Canada, who completed a twenty-seven-day 500-mile trek back to the Allied lines after his aircraft had been shot down near Tobruk.

Accompanied by Flt. Sgt. John H. Wood, his Australian gunner, Spence trekked across the Libyan Desert to reach a spot near El Alamein. Both were made members of the "Order of the Boot" for their exploit. Wood now is in Canada to train as a pilot, and Spence is on leave.

Those commissioned include:

British Columbia—Flt. Sgt. Harvey Baker Sutherland, Vancouver; Flt. Sgt. Robert Haig Strouts, Parksville.

Dies in Attempt To Rescue Three

HAMILTON, Ont., June 4 (CP).—Anthony Bennetti, forty-four, of nearby Waterdown, gave his life today in a vain attempt to rescue three Waterdown girls from drowning in a gravel pit near Aldershot, six miles east of here.

Drowned with Bennetti were: Barbara Tuck, eight; Sandra Shepperd, nine, and Marie Rockett, eleven.

Bennetti, who could not swim, dived into the deepest part of the pool when he heard the children scream for help. The girls had stumbled into a ten-foot hole. Bennetti sank in the ten-foot drop in an attempt to reach the girls who already had disappeared. He was a married man with two small children.

Church Wants Ban On Canadian Liquor Shipments Overseas

WINNIPEG, June 4 (CP).—A resolution urging the Federal Government to ban all shipments overseas of liquor manufactured in Canada was endorsed here today by the Manitoba Conference of the United Church of Canada.

The resolution declared that in view of the acute shortage of shipping space any alcoholic drinks "that must be shipped to the overseas forces," should be obtained from sources closer to the theatres of war.

In another resolution the conference called upon Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Munitions and Supply, to ask the resignation of E. P. Taylor, executive assistant to the minister. Mr. Taylor is president of Canadian Breweries.

A similar resolution was adopted earlier this week by the Saskatchewan Conference of the United Church meeting in Regina.

To Oppose Sale of Japanese Property Held by Custodian

VANCOUVER, June 4 (CP).—J. Arthur MacLennan, solicitor for a group of Japanese opposed to sale of Japanese-owned real estate by the custodian of enemy alien property, said today a petition of right will be sent to the Secretary of State at Ottawa as soon as the sale is advertised.

The petition of right actually is an application to the Secretary of State for leave to sue the Crown in an attempt to prove the Government lacks the legal power to dispose of the property.

The annual meeting of the donors and subscribers to the Royal Jubilee Hospital will be held on the afternoon of Friday, June 18, in the Nurses' Home, Richmond Road, at 3 p.m. Business will include the election of four directors.

Fruits and Vegetables Show Sharp Rise Over Last Year

A FORTY per cent average increase in the cost of foodstuffs that do not come under any price ceiling is shown from the following list of fruits and vegetables advertised in local papers one year ago and again today.

Commodity	Year Ago	Today
Lettuce	10 to 12½ cents each	18 to 25 cents
Radishes	2½ cents a bunch	5 cents
Cucumbers	15 cents each	25 cents
Tomatoes, No. 1	21 to 23 cents pound	29 to 33 cents
Tomatoes, No. 2	12 to 15 cents pound	20 cents
Tomatoes, Dessert	17 cents pound	25 cents
Carrots	5½ cents bunch (clipped)	8½ to 10 cents
Celery	6 cents a pound	25 cents
Spinach	4½ to 5 cents a pound	5 to 6 cents
Asparagus	12½ cents a pound	19 cents
Cabbage	6 cents a pound	9 cents
Rhubarb	4 cents a pound	6½ cents
Oranges	5 cents a pound	7 cents
Oranges	25 to 40 cents a dozen	33 to 56 cents
Apples	$2.50 a box	$3.75 to $4
Dates	35 cents a pound	70 cents (50 to 55 cents for Christmas stock)

Radishes and dates show a 100 per cent increase over last year's prices, cucumbers are over 80 per cent higher and tomatoes show an increase of 40 per cent. Spinach and carrots are only slightly higher.

In some cases prices listed are for low-grade stock that has been in stores for a few days; they are sale prices. Inquiry among housewives and stores show that better grades of fruit and vegetables are often sold for double last year's figures. Comparative figures for smaller vegetable stores that do not advertise are not available.

William Mercer, appointed by the Federal Government to study cost-of-living problems, recently stated that "fresh fruits and vegetables were left out of the cost-of-living index owing to the difficulty of keeping check on the prices of seasonal products."

All products listed above, which are highly perishable and seasonal, have been exempt from the price ceiling order.

Housing Conversion For Victoria

OTTAWA, June 4 (CP).—Expenditure of $500,000 on expansion of the Government's housing conversion programme has been approved and will be spent in Vancouver, Victoria and Ottawa, it was learned today.

The programme has already been launched in Ottawa, with $50,000 appropriated to convert large east dences into forty apartments. The extended programme provides for spending $250,000 in Ottawa to provide another 200 apartments, and a similar amount will be divided between Vancouver and Victoria.

Division of the Pacific Coast appropriation has not yet been determined, but Frank W. Nicholls, director of the National Housing Administration, is expected to leave for British Columbia next week to discuss details of the plan.

The housing conversion scheme provides for the National Housing Administration taking over large residences at nominal rentals for a five-year period. The buildings are remodeled into apartment units at the expense of the administration which collects the rents during the five years to meet the capital expenses.

At the conclusion of the contract the property is turned back to the owner in the form of apartments.

Bomber Makes Record Flight To Australia

SYDNEY, Australia, June 4 (CP).—A Lancaster bomber flown by an Australian crew has arrived here after a record flight for one crew across the Atlantic, Canada and the Pacific.

The big plane will be exhibited at all state capitals in Australia.

Members of the crew have taken part in many bombing attacks on Europe, Prime Minister John Curtin said in welcoming the bomber and its crew.

Lord Burghley, once Olympic hurdles champion and now a controller in the British Supply Department, arrived on the bomber.

Photographic Display To Open Here Monday

The Spring exhibition of photographic prints will open for one week, commencing Monday, at Spencer's Art Gallery, on the third floor.

The prints on display are the work of members of the Victoria Photographic Association, composed of local photographers, both amateur and professional, who gather a wide range of subject matter indicative of a diversity of interests, from landscape and portraiture to tabletops.

The association is a non-profit organization whose members are interested in promoting photography as an outlet for artistic expression and takes this means of giving the public a free opportunity of viewing the members' work.

Landlords Fined

EDMONTON, June 4 (CP).—Magistrate A. I. Millar yesterday ruled in police court that when the Wartime Prices and Trade Board sets a maximum monthly housing rental the landlord does not have the privilege of changing the rental to a weekly basis which would give him an increased revenue.

The ruling, which applies to rental for apartments, suites or houses, was made by the magistrate when two landlords came before him charged with breaches of wartime leasehold regulations.

Landlords must obtain permission from the board before a change from a monthly to a weekly rental basis can be made.

New York Jurist to Speak Here Monday

Judge Bernard A. Rosenblatt, outstanding jurist of New York, will address members of the Canadian Club at a luncheon meeting in the Empress Hotel on Monday at 12:15 p.m.

Ministers Kept Busy

Hon. George S. Pearson, Provincial Secretary and Minister of Labor, returned yesterday from Revelstoke, where he participated in behalf of J. McKinnon, coalition candidate, in the approaching by-election in that constituency.

Hon. Herbert Anscomb, Minister of Public Works, is touring the highway system in the Interior. Attorney-General R. L. Maitland, K.C., is attending a conference of law enforcement officers in California. The remaining ministers attended yesterday's meeting of the Cabinet, at which Premier Hart presided.

Annulment Is Sought

In Supreme Court Chambers yesterday morning Mr. Justice Sidney Smith granted an application of Miss E. H. M. Thorneycroft, barrister and solicitor, for leave to use an affidavit proving a previous marriage in the case of Richard Arthur Bassett, who was convicted and sentenced on a charge of bigamy. Action will be taken for annulment of Bassett's second form of marriage to Doreen Molloy.

Russian Labor System Being Applied Here

Widely known as "Russia's secret weapon," the Stakhanovite system for the development and exchange of ideas likely to simplify and improve production methods is being introduced in Victoria through the medium of the Job Methods Training Conference. A local class opened yesterday and classes will be continued in the Market Building in [illegible] with the assistance of the War Emergency Training Department, of which Col. T. E. Fairey is director.

Courses are being laid out by Harry Jones, inspector of technical classes for British Columbia, now on loan to the Federal Government to work on industrial efficiency systems. Yesterday's class was attended by five men from Yarrows Ltd., four from V.M.D., and Harry Dee, acting vice-principal of Victoria High School, who later will conduct night classes.

Originally devised in Russia, the system is designed to encourage workers who are creatively inclined, to familiarize them with tools, machinery and equipment, designs, layouts and safety methods. The plan is said to be working successfully in actual operation at several points in the United States, and is spreading rapidly of late in Eastern Canada.

As the system develops in two or three of the larger industries and trained men are made available as instructors, it will be expanded to include smaller shops and industry generally.

Qualicum Crash Kills Four Men

QUALICUM BEACH, June 4 (CP).—Four men were killed today when an R.A.F. aircraft crashed on Qualicum Beach, setting fire to the house of H. Cook, of Courtenay, B.C.

No one in the house was injured and the flames were put out after causing several hundred dollars damage.

Names will be released following notification of next-of-kin.

Royal Air Force officials at a West Coast air station, when approached last night refused to confirm or deny this report.

All Halifax Cafes May Close Sundays

HALIFAX, June 4 (CP).—Unless something can be done to relieve the shortage of restaurant help, Halifax "eater-outers" will have to go hungry on Sundays, it was revealed today by a survey of public eating places.

Eleven of the twenty-five main restaurants and tearooms in the city are closed on Sundays now, and many of the others may have to follow suit. Many waitresses refuse to work on Sundays, the proprietors said.

NEW YORK, June 5 (Saturday) (AP).—Led by Emperor Hirohito, the entire Japanese nation halted work this morning for the funeral of Admiral Isoroku Yamamoto, Japan's ablest naval leader, who died in a plane accident in the Pacific, a Tokio broadcast recorded by The Associated Press said.

Premier Hideki Tojo prayed at the altar in a final tribute to the fleet commander-in-chief who died under circumstances not yet made clear.

WASHINGTON, June 4 (AP).—Allied officials said today that a new protocol for Anglo-American-Canadian aid to Russia probably will be signed soon. No More Flying Schools Proposed for Dominion

OTTAWA, June 4 (CP).—Air Minister Power today told the House of Commons it was not proposed to establish any more elementary flying schools in Canada, and said lack of facilities was not restricting the output of trained personnel.

The supply of manpower for the air training plan was not unlimited, he said, and it might be possible that the plan at present contemplates a larger annual production of trained personnel than can be maintained.

The minister said he could not say how many names were on the waiting list for enrolment in the R.C.A.F. but there were not so many as there were "and they are not kept waiting very long."

Maj. Power again had before the House in committee his $1,129,000,000 estimate as his share of the war appropriation for the current fiscal year.

J. G. Diefenbaker (Progressive Conservative, Lake Centre), proposed that the reserves being built up by elementary flying schools from profits on instruction fees should be devoted to establishment of Canada's organization in whatever Empire commercial flying plan is evolved after the war.

Some schools are operated by civilian flying clubs and he said profits should be devoted to the welfare of those serving in the air force.

EMPLOYMENT FOR MEN AFTER WAR

Firm establishment of Canada in the postwar commercial flying business would ensure employment for a large number of those now engaged in handling the fighting planes, Mr. Diefenbaker said.

There was no immediate response from Maj. Power on this aspect of Mr. Diefenbaker's discussion of the appropriation.

Labor Minister Mitchell told a questioner that plans to meet the fuel emergency were moving "expeditiously" and he promised a statement later.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King said that at the "proper moment" he would make a statement on the food conference just completed at Hot Springs, Va.

Agriculture Minister Gardiner told a questioner that the reconstituted bacon board, as a meat board, would have the same duties and powers it had as a bacon board and would have nothing to do with prices or rationing which are in control of the Prices Board.

Mr. Mitchell told another questioner that he was investigating reports that men had been laid off by the Canadian Ingersoll Rand Company for union activities. He said there were plenty of openings available for men laid off there.

Mr. Diefenbaker said he believed that larger savings could be effected if all air training schools were equipped with oil reclamation plants. Where these had been set up, there had been important oil savings.

John Blackmore, New Democracy leader, asked if something could be done in pay adjustments to remove the possibility which he said existed that an airman obtaining a commission would be worse off financially than before.

DIFFERENCES IN PAY IN FORCES

Major Power said there was a difference between pay of a sergeant pilot and of a commissioned officer and if he raised the pay of a commissioned man he would have to raise the pay of the sergeant pilot. He said he would consider the situation but there seemed little hope of removing the possibility of a man being better off financially in some instances as an N.C.O. than as an officer.

Mr. Diefenbaker asked if it was possible for a conscript who refused to volunteer for overseas in the army to volunteer for the air force as air crew.

Major Power said he did not know but would take it up with the Defence Minister and see if he could get recruits from that source. He said the men were given an opportunity to apply for service in the branch of their choice when first called up.

T. C. Douglas (C.C.F. Weyburn) asked the minister if anything had been or could be done to curtail the fuel emergency, were moving expeditiously" and he promised a statement later.

Major Power said there had been a great deal of travelling necessary because there was not every variety of school in each province. That condition had largely disappeared but there was still "probably more traveling than there should be," and he would continue efforts to curtail it.

The minister said travel, transportation and freight for air force personnel this year would cost $13,848,000, about 3,000,000 more than last year. Of this total pupil postings would take $7,000,000, staff travel $3,848,000, annual and embarkation leave $1,091,000.

NEW YORK, June 4 (AP).—If you hear someone holler, "My old man could lick your old man" in the Madison Square Garden ring tonight, it'll be Bobby Ruffin and Terry Young. Both of their fathers were pro fighters; Bobby's dad fought as Teddy Hubbs and Terry's dad also was Terry Young . . . And Chalky Wright and Phil Terranova, who clash in the main bout, both come from families of eleven children. Any crap shooter could tell you that makes their scrap a natural.

We still say that any fellow who makes that many letters at a major college should be elected postmaster-general," a clipping received at this office with the note, "submitted by Little Rock postoffice."

Baltimore's industrial boxing tournament has attracted teams from so many industrial plants that Tournament Chairman Leon Yarneth is thinking about running it on a two-a-day schedule . . . One reason why Greg Rice didn't enter tomorrow's Metropolitan senior track meet is a bad case of shin splints he picked up training on concrete roads and a hard high school track.

RECAPTURED

SEATTLE, June 4 (AP).—Police, armed with sub-machine guns, tonight surrounded a house in Seattle's Green Lake district and captured a man whom Patrolman H. L. Schultheis identified as Walter McFarland, twenty-six, one of the two state reformatory inmates who escaped from a camp near Monroe, Wednesday. Schultheis said the fugitive had been seen on the street and followed to his residence.

The British Board of Trade has added another 402 names to their "black list" of traders abroad with whom it is unlawful to have dealings of any kind.

Canadian Fighter Command Is Making Real Name for Itself

WITH THE R.C.A.F. IN FIGHTER COMMAND, SOMEWHERE IN SOUTHERN ENGLAND, June 4 (CP).—This is where Canada's aerial Gladiators fly fast and high, making a name in Fighter Command that stands alongside that of any fighter formation anywhere.

Here you find fellows like P.O. Frank C. McWilliams, of New Westminster, B.C., all set to take off but more excited at having named his Spitfire "McWillie's Dilly" than he is about the forthcoming sweep. During the Dieppe operation when McWilliams' outfit, the Wolf Squadron, was the top Canadian formation, they flew out and in and out again all day long.

These kids, such as P.O. R. D. Bowen, of Edmonton, are those who help carry to the enemy the operations worked out by Air Ministry.

WORK ORIGINATES

Their whole work originated with Air Ministry, which first gives Bomber Command its order to go and then calls on Fighter Command for protection.

There's more to it than that, of course. For instance, when American Fortresses bombed Antwerp, there were diversionary sweeps here and there, feints to confuse the enemy. Then the Fortresses went in with the Wolf Squadron flying protection.

Once the fighters rendezvous with the bombers they must stay until their gasoline gauge warns them to get home. A fighter can't stay at work too long, maybe an hour and a half or so. They do this escort work in relays.

Bus Overturns on Broken Shoulder Of Island Highway

Collapse of the road shoulder at Mile 18 on the Island Highway caused an Up-Island bus to turn on its side at 7 o'clock last night. Four passengers were taken to hospitals in Duncan and Victoria for treatment for minor injuries.

The bus, driven by H. Langlois, was fully loaded and proceeding north. The remainder of the passengers were slightly shaken up, but continued on their journey in a replacement bus which arrived on the scene of the mishap an hour and a half later.

The accident occurred when the bus, proceeding in low gear at slow speed to pass an army convoy travelling south to Victoria, pulled to the right side of the highway and the shoulder of the road gave way. Although the driver immediately pulled the bus to a stop, the breakaway of the road caused the vehicle to slide slowly onto its side.

The names of the injured persons are: Mrs. W. P. Dougan, Cobble Hill; Mr. Edward Elliott, Duncan; Sgt. Redley, R.C.A.F. (W.D.), Saskatoon and Mrs. Duce, Duncan.

Two Canadian Planes May Have Each Sunk Submarine

OTTAWA, June 4 (CP).—Two Canadian aircraft of the R.A.F. Coastal Command got in "very promising" blows against U-boats during a recent eight-day battle between a submarine pack and a Royal Navy convoy escort, R.C.A.F. headquarters announced today.

They were Canso flying boats of the Gannet Squadron and their commanders were Sqdn. Ldr. B. H. (Barry) Moffitt and Flt. Lt. Jack Langmuir, both of Toronto.

An R.C.A.F. press release said the crews are proud that they have damaged two submarines with their depth charges and Langmuir's aircraft engaged in a gun duel with one of these. He escaped unhit and got in some good shots on the sub's conning tower.

R.C.A.F. headquarters, however, did not say whether the two submarines were among the four definitely accounted for and six probably destroyed during the long engagement, as reported earlier by [illegible] was the official description of the Canadian attacks.

Cpl. Harry Knelson, of Baldworth, Sask., sighted a submarine's wake and gave the alarm.

CAUGHT BY SURPRISE ON THE SURFACE

The submarine was caught by surprise on the surface. As the aircraft passed over and let the depth charges go, Moffitt said, he could see two Germans on the conning tower platform.

Knelson saw the depth charges drop from his lookout in the "port blister," one charge just ahead and one behind the conning tower and "others in perfect pattern on the starboard side." Moffitt circled the Canso to take another look but by the time he got around the submarine had disappeared. Oil and wreckage came up, evidence the charges had done their work.

Langmuir was patrolling some sixty miles ahead of the convoy when his second pilot, Flt. Sgt. Melburn Paul, of Fairview, Alta., saw the sub through his binoculars.

The enemy was surfaced, about eighteen miles away.

"It was not until we were within two miles that Jerry spotted us," said Langmuir. "Then it was too late. He hadn't time to submerge and decided to fight it out because, before we were within range, he let us have it with his Oerlikon gun. Luckily his aim was bad."

DIVED TO HEIGHT OF TWENTY FEET

"We kept diving in until we reached a height of twenty feet and then straddled him with depth charges just ahead of the conning tower. They dropped so close to the hull that you couldn't tell whether we bounced one off the sub or not."

Swinging around, Langmuir ordered W.O. Clifford Hazlett, of Chilliwack, B.C., to man the front guns and prepare for a second attack. With the Germans still firing spasmodically, the Canso dived. The sub fired at 600 yards but missed, and Hazlett held his fire until 300 yards.

"As we were passing over the sub during the second attack it had little or no forward movement and when we circled again, well out of range, he had disappeared," said Hazlett. "It looked as if he just filled up and settled, stern first."

Members of 8qdn. Ldr. Moffitt's crew included Sgt. William Bedwell, of Marchwell, Sask., first engineer.

NATIONAL SELECTIVE SERVICE

Coal Fires All Fronts!

CANADA must increase coal production to maintain its war fronts—power for war plants, for railways, for merchantmen and fighting ships, heat for the nation's welfare.

Workers and mine operators must be aided in their vital task. More coal must be mined and delivered. Experienced coal mine workers must be added to mine staffs.

A Proclamation of His Excellency the Governor General in Council declares a national emergency to exist in regard to coal supply. An Order in Council provides Regulations to make men available to mine coal. These are the main points in the new Regulations:

1 EVERY EMPLOYER, REGARDLESS OF HIS INDUSTRY, must advise his employees of these Regulations, and he must assist in discovering whether any of his employees have had previous experience as coal mine workers.

2 EVERY EMPLOYEE, REGARDLESS OF HIS INDUSTRY, who has had previous experience as a coal mine worker, must report that fact to his employer.

3 A "COAL MINE WORKER" FOR THESE PURPOSES is anyone who, since January 1st, 1935, has worked under provincial certificate or license in or around a coal mine, or who, since the same date, has been employed for a total of at least 24 months in the production of coal (except at office work).

4 EVERY EMPLOYER, NOT A COAL MINE OPERATOR, must report in writing to a Selective Service Officer, full details on any of his employees who are ex-coal mine workers.

5 SELECTIVE SERVICE OFFICERS ARE AUTHORIZED to require ex-coal mine workers to report for interview and to accept work at a coal mine.

6 SELECTIVE SERVICE OFFICERS MAY REQUIRE any man in any employment, if subject to Mobilization Regulations but rejected for Military Training, and certain others excused from Military Training, to accept employment at a coal mine.

7 NO COAL MINE OPERATOR may terminate the services of any coal mine worker without written permission from a Selective Service Officer.

8 NO COAL MINE WORKER may leave employment at a coal mine without written permission from a Selective Service Officer.

9 EVERY EX-COAL MINE WORKER, returning to the industry under these Regulations, will be paid wages at the established rate for the job at which he is placed; and the Government will pay wages of 40 cents an hour, 8 hours a day and 48 hours a week, to any ex-coal mine worker required to leave his present employment under these provisions, but not placed immediately at coal mining.

10 A BOARD ALLOWANCE of not more than $7.50 a week may be paid an ex-coal mine worker now returning to a coal mine, if required to live away from the residence of his dependents.

11 PRESENT AND FUTURE COAL MINE WORKERS will be granted postponement from Military Training to February 1st, 1944, by virtue of their occupation; and no coal mine worker will be accepted for voluntary enlistment in the Armed Forces of Canada, prior to February 1st, 1944, except under permit to enlist from a Selective Service Officer.

12 NO EMPLOYER IN CANADA, EXCEPT A COAL MINE OPERATOR, may solicit for employment or hire any ex-coal mine worker.

13 REGARDLESS OF ANY DOMINION OR PROVINCIAL LAW, male persons at least 16 years old may be employed as coal mine workers, and female persons at least 18 years old may be employed as surface coal mine workers.

14 WAR EMERGENCY TRAINING CLASSES will be available for training men as coal mine workers.

15 ANY EMPLOYER UNABLE TO REPORT IMMEDIATELY should advise the Employment and Selective Service Office of the date he will report.

Such is the substance of the new regulations. Full details may be had at any Employment and Selective Service Office. If these provisions require action on your part, you are urged in the national interest to act immediately. Severe penalties are provided for non-compliance, but the Government relies on the co-operation of the citizens of Canada to make prosecution unnecessary by prompt action as required. This is a grave emergency. Assist if you can.

William C. Wilson Native of Victoria Passes Suddenly

Born in Victoria seventy-three years ago, and a resident of this city all his life, William Cleaver Wilson, seventy-three years old, of 1701 Stanley Avenue, died suddenly at his work at 1320 Broad Street yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

Mr. Wilson was the son of the late Alexander and Mary Wilson, prominent pioneers of this city. He received his education here and went to work for the well-established firm of A. & W. Wilson, plumbers, tinsmiths and sheet metal workers. Later he entered partnership with his brother, Ruther Wilson, retaining the old name in the business.

He was a member of the First Presbyterian Church and Sunday School for many years and then, with other residents, started the establishment thirty years ago of a Sunday school on Stanley Avenue, which later became Knox Presbyterian Church. He was an ardent church worker and was an elder in Knox Church for years. His wife predeceased him in February, 1940.

He is survived by three brothers, Ruther, of Victoria; Alexander C., of California, and Kenneth, of Vancouver, and four sisters, Mrs. J. A. Heritage; Mrs. Peter McKechnie and Miss Jessie Wilson, all in Victoria, and Mrs. G. McDonald, of Burnaby, B.C.

Funeral services will be held on Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in McCall Bros.' Funeral Chapel. Rev. Frank Chilton will conduct the service, after which interment will be made in the family plot in Colwood Burial Park.

Makes an Appeal for Extension of Church Work in Western Area

HAMILTON, Ont., June 4 (CP).—An appeal for extension of Presbyterian Church work in Western Canada was made today before the sixty-ninth general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada by Rev. John Hardwick, Saskatoon. He was supporting a recommendation of the general board of missions that synodical missionaries be appointed in Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Northern Ontario.

Rev. J. B. Skene, Vancouver, predicted that when the war ends the Western Provinces will experience a revival of immigration.

Rev. T. H. McAllister, Victoria, warned that many Western ministers were discouraged and tempted to go into shipyards or war work because of their low salaries.

Rev. P. C. McCrae, New Westminster, B.C., said: "If things go on as they are we will have to have a separate church in the West, or give more power to the synods, especially in British Columbia, where we are isolated."

An elder from Edmonton, W. T. Tait, supported a proposal for three synodical missionaries, two of whom would be replacing men who retired last year.

Rev. Dr. R. B. Steeves, of the Peace River Presbytery, in supporting the proposal, told of a mine of mercury that had been discovered in the New North.

ON DIPLOMATIC FRONT

Events are moving fast on the diplomatic front in the war. The creation of a national council from a fusion of French leaders in North Africa, the overthrow of the Castillo isolationist regime in Argentina, and growing boldness on the part of Sweden and other non-belligerents, all measure the drift of the tide that has turned in favor of the United Nations in the conflict.

The North African council of French leaders will be a factor of strength in the coming Battle of Europe, providing a focal point for French resistance to the aggressors both at home and abroad. It is backed by a considerable French army, ready and equipped again to take the field; by French naval vessels held intact at Alexandria and elsewhere, and by not a few squadrons of the original French air corps. As Tunisia demonstrated, these men will fight with all of the gallantry of their beloved native soil.

While the picture in Argentina is not yet sufficiently clear for precise comment; it would seem that isolationism is receiving its last blow in the Americas. Every South American republic save Argentina has already joined the United Nations' cause, and is fighting staunchly on the side of freedom. The pressure of events forced the test in Argentina, where an isolationist regime had become progressively unpopular with its people.

All of these events point in the same direction. Back of them again are the major unities, such as were evidenced at Casablanca, Washington and Moscow. When zero hour comes in the Battle of Europe, freedom will go forward, and in a united cause.

DISTINCTION FOR OBSERVATORY

Once again the Dominion Astraphysical Observatory at Little Saanich Mountain has brought distinction to Canada in the field of stellar measurement and research. Dr. J. A. Pearce, director of the observatory, is credited with the discovery of a new binary star of the eighth magnitude in the constellation of Auriga, the Charioteer. Spectroscopic and other analyses of the twin bodies were shared this week with world astronomical groups, adding once more to the sum of man's knowledge of the heavens.

The dimensions of the new binary components are impressive. It is believed that each star has the mass of twenty-three suns rolled into one. They revolve about each other, but at such an angle from our viewpoint that their eclipse may be only partial. The periodic revolution, and it would seem to be a placid one, is completed in slightly more than four days. The new double-star is believed to be at a distance of some 3,500 light-years from our sun, or only a moderately distant body in the heavens.

In making the announcement this week, Dr. Pearce gave credit to Dr. Andrew McKellar, of the same observatory, for associate researches in connection with the measurement of the newly discovered body. He predicted that while no self-eclipse of the binary has yet been observed, one will be traced and that it will be partial as seen from this planet. Very great interest attaches to binaries in the heavens, because they have become one of the principal means of measuring distances in connection with the more remote objects in space.

LACK OF INFORMATION

In the discussion on the War Appropriation Bill in the House of Commons it was disclosed that there are 91,800 male Canadians between the ages of eighteen and thirty-eight in the United States. It was noted further that this country established recruiting agencies in the United States, and sent Army officers and non-commissioned officers to secure volunteers. To the end of January last, out of the 91,800 only 801 enlistments were obtained. The presumption is that those Canadians residing across the border, if they have not taken out naturalization papers, come within the scope of this country's National Mobilization Act. That authority, however, has not been exercised in their case, and Mr. J. L. Ralston, the Minister of National Defence, has been unable to give an explanation. Moreover, it seems that but little if anything has been done to secure the transfer of Canadians serving with the American Army to the Canadian force. There are some 5,000 of these.

It is proving very difficult to obtain information about Canada's fighting forces. Mr. Ralston, in answer to a question, said he could not give the strength of the three Army divisions in the country. He did say that, as at May 15 last, the number of members (home defence) and "R" recruits serving in the Canadian Army was reported at 68,228. These men, he said, were available for service outside Canada, if required under order-in-council from time to time, and he said that some of them were serving outside Canada, in Newfoundland and on other outposts and islands.

The foregoing figures would indicate that the number of draftees is 68,228, yet 1,028,753 were notified to report for service under conscription. Another estimate says there are 187,178 draftees, so that there is a wide discrepancy in the figures published. The number enlisting in the Army, either voluntarily or under the draft system, up to the end of December last, is given as 433,876, but what proportion of these have been discharged for medical or other reasons does not appear to be known. In other words, the actual strength of the Army as it now stands, and the fact of whether all divisions are fully manned is not known. Nor is it known what is the strength of reinforcements standing ready overseas and fully trained and available to fill up any depletions that may occur in the Canadian Corps nominated and ready for offensive operations.

The foregoing is all information that both Parliament and the people have the right to know, and it is information that must be in the possession of the military authorities. In attempting to acquire it members of Parliament have been unsuccessful. Many questions have been evaded by the minister responsible. Monthly, the propaganda offices at Ottawa publish a brochure entitled "Canada At War." This is supposed to give a full record of the "intake" in the armed services. Sometimes it does and sometimes it does not, but never has it presented a true picture. There is no use in giving figures about the number of volunteers, or the number of draftees, unless it is stated in connection with these how many have been rejected, in addition to the number who have been discharged or invalided out of the services after being enrolled. The facts about the strength of the armed forces, and the Army in particular, are shrouded in too much mystery, and, perhaps, the greatest mystery of all is in connection with the small percentage of draftees obtained out of those liable for service under this heading.

AN ELECTION IN EIRE

In the election to be held in Eire on June 22 there will be three major parties engaged. They are the Fianna Fail, supporting the present Government of Mr. de Valera; the Fine Gael which is the official opposition headed by Mr. William T. Cosgrave; and Labor. Four or five Farmer parties will also be in the field with the prospect of winning seats. There are 136 seats in the Dail and the three major parties are likely to put eighty candidates each into the field. The situation will be complicated by the number of Farmer candidates. Labor at present has nine seats in the Dail, and, because labor conditions are very unsatisfactory in Eire with rising prices and wage ceiling orders, it is conceivable that on this occasion Labor will secure more substantial support at the polls than in the past. Even the opponents of that political party admit that it may win from twenty to twenty-five seats, while other estimates place the number as high as thirty-eight.

Apart from the foregoing appraisement of prospects there is a general assumption that Mr. de Valera's party will retain power with some loss of seats, but the situation has become highly confused with the advent of farmers to the political field, and a certain lack of knowledge as to whom they will support. It is conceded that Mr. Cosgrave's party, the Fine Gael, stands in danger of losing a number of seats, but that these will be lost to Labor and the farmers, not to the Government party. There is the possibility of a stalemate being the result of the election such is the conflict of public opinion now obtaining in Eire.

WESTERN AIR LINK

Viewed in the light of present-day conditions, the extension of the Trans-Canada Air Lines' through-travel and mail service to a Western terminus at Patricia Bay is good business, although there remain some anomalies in the case. Through passengers from Victoria will now have the benefit of Trans-Canada passenger rates; but inter-city passengers between Victoria and Vancouver presumably will not, nor may they use the nationally-owned service.

While that is the effect of the Transport Board of Canada's order, there are special circumstances which today render such a course more understandable than might appear on the surface. Patricia Bay is a service station, as well as the declared Western terminus of the Trans-Canada Air Lines. It would not be feasible to throw it open to the public as a straight air terminus just now. Its sure and certain use is likely to be as a protective and additional landing ground on westbound flights, when weather conditions block Mainland airports; as has happened on many occasions in the past.

What has been extended, and clearly, however, is Canada's national air route, irrespective of what organization flies over it. That is a gain, not alone for the special considerations mentioned, but also to the air route itself. It is now a more complete link. It reaches officially to Vancouver Island, in the West. The board's order preserves intact the local inter-city service performed by the Canadian Pacific Airways, charter holders in the present instance. Rate anomalies can be adjusted later, and they should.

A taxpayer files his income tax return within the due date, and, in doing so, because of the heavy obligation, asks how it may be paid on the instalment plan. Fourteen months later he receives the bill of what is due, plus interest that savors of usury, plus a percentage of the National Defence Tax which he has already paid in full because it has been taken off at the source. The tax collectors, though ultimately inexorable in their decrees, are "leaden servitors" of the Government.

The Canadian Pacific Air Lines opened its Alaska highway with a through connection to Vancouver the other day. Its route is above the snowline, and can be flown on twelve months in the year. Dawson will say, no doubt, that this puts Vancouver on the map.

THE UNION

You that have gathered together the sons of all races
And welded them into one,
Lifting the torch of your freedom on hungering faces
That sailed to the setting sun.

You that have made of mankind in your own proud regions
The music of man to be
How should the old earth sing of you, now, as your legions
Rise to set all men free?

How should the singer that knew the proud vision and loved it
In days when not all men knew
Gaze through his tears, on the light, now The world has approved it;
Or dream when the dream comes true?

How should he sing when the Spirit of Freedom in thunder
Speaks, and the wine-press is red;
And the sea-winds are loud with the chains that are broken asunder
And nations that rise from the dead?

Flag of the sky, proud flag of that wide communion,
Too mighty for thought to scan;
Flag of the many in one, and that last world-union,
That kingdom of God in man;

Ours was a dream, in the night, of that last federation,
But yours is the glory unfurled—
The marshalled nations and stars that shall make one nation
One singing star of the world.

—Alfred Noyes.

There is a certain artificial polish and address acquired by mingling in the beau mode, which, in the commerce of the world, supplies the place of natural suavity and good humor, but it is too often purchased at the expense of all original and sterling traits of character.—Washington Irving.

Note and Comment

By SANDHAM GRAVES

"William Collie,
Somewhere-in-Saanich.

"Dear Bill: After a busy day guarding the house, watching the garden, going to the store and posting letters, a dog let me tell you needs his rest. It is not good enough to be awakened at three o'clock in the morning, just when the wind has an edge to it, by the cat's meow. And when they sing, pup, it is more than I or any dog can stand. Last night it was 'Camping on the Old Town Wall.' There were three of them at it, Bill: a black tom, a tortoise-shell tabby, and a blue half-Persian . . . who is no better than she should be, if that!

"You know how it is when you are half asleep, pup? I said to myself, 'Cats!' but my mind didn't really take it in. I think it must have been an intermission, for the cats quieted down and I was almost asleep again when there was a fresh chorus. That woke me I can tell you! The black tom was singing in a deep bass voice. The tortoise-shell tabby was right up at the end of the scales in a mile-high kind of soprano. The blue half-Persian was doing coloratura bits somewhere in between. I shivered, Bill. There is something about a soprano that always tingles me, right down the nerve cords of my spine.

"Even yet, pup, I was loath to move. You know how it is at three in the morning, and with a cold wind blowing? I kept hoping the cats would move on. But not a bit of it. They finished 'Camping on the Old Town Wall,' and swung without a pause into 'I'll See You Again.' It was awful! The night, for me, was ruined. I got up, and, availing myself of that secret exit from the garden which the family does not know about, I was soon on the street, shivering. The cats were harmonising in a brier patch. I stalked them, but the black tom saw me, and they scattered. I patrolled the neighborhood for half an hour, but they did not come back.

"What burns me up, Bill, is how they get out at night to do it! I am put to bed. I am supposed to stay in the cellar. I am told not to bark at night, or make any other noise. Yet the cats can hold carnival at three o'clock in the morning; with grand opera, light opera and swing, mind you. Never mind, pup, I have a plan worked out. Tonight, and every night this week, I will only pretend to go to bed. I will sleep in the brier patch instead. If you would like to join me, you had better come after dark and through the meadow. The cats come from the other side. Don't bother to reply, pup. Join me, if you can.

"Yours to a tail-wag
Paddy Wire-Hair."

P.S. The blue half-Persian is mine, Bill. She sassed me today from the back verandah. The vendetta is on!—J.P.W."

The time used is Pacific Standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

To find the depth of water on the sill at the Esquimalt Drydock at any tide, add 30 feet to the height of high water as above given.

Hawaii's climate is so uniform that the native language has no word for "weather."

Derides Stories of Cruisers—Stories of Germany's submarine cruisers may be dismissed, says Archibald S. Hurd, the widely-known writer on naval subjects. "They are merely large submarines such as we have been building," he says. "They do not represent a triumph of German engineering any more conspicuous than a triumph our shipbuilders have achieved. It was because German submarines of about 800 tons could remain at sea only a short time were very uncomfortable, and the conditions were very telling on the nerves of the crews that the enemy evolved a larger type, modelled on the Deutschland."

Water Supply Inadequate—Complaints are freely made of the poor water service in the higher portions of the city. Not only is the quality bad, as usual, but the quantity is not sufficient. Ceaseless bombing goes on behind both Russian-German fronts in the Eastern war zone, with the Nazis losing heavily. There has been a two-day battle on the Kalinin front, says The Times' Moscow correspondent, where the Germans recently attacked. The Nazis lost 2,000 men and the Russians restored the positions they lost. The Red Army also [illegible] on the Orel area.

From the Kuban front great air struggles are reported. Neither side has air supremacy at night yet, but the Red Air Force is able to bomb German communications lavishly. These attacks, says The Times' correspondent, have upset Nazi preparations for an offensive.

The Russian battleship October Revolution has now been extensively fitted with British anti-aircraft guns. This warship helped greatly in the defence of Leningrad last year.

Fear of invasion in Italy has grown so much the Fascists are now attempting a hate crusade against Britain. The British are no longer enemies but "gangsters and murderers," and "Heaven's bandits," the latter being an allusion to the devastation wrought on Italian towns by the Royal Air Force.

tutions," a respect, he said, which was lacking in the Castillo Government.

The President of the Supreme Court, Roberto Repetto, indicated tonight that the new regime would be recognized by the Supreme Court.

Rawson also issued a written statement declaring that "moral corruption" marked the Castillo regime which was "harmfull to the true interests of the country, and prevented an economic upsurge."

FORMER GOVERNOR IS ARRESTED

Although this statement did not mention the international policy of the provisional regime, one of the first official acts today was the arrest of Manuel Fresco, a former governor of Buenos Aires Province, known for his Nazi sympathies.

Rawson's statement said that "Communism" threatened the country. Amid the general confusion observers said one fact stood out: Argentine army leaders have been impressed by the country's failure to get financial and technical aid because of Castillo's foreign policy which made Argentina a holdout in the Pan-American front against the Axis.

The march on the capital was deterred by only one small clash at a naval engineering school on the outskirts where one or two soldiers were reported to have been killed and twenty or more persons wounded, including a civilian passerby.

FOURTEEN CIVILIANS KILLED IN CLASH

One soldier and fourteen civilians were reported killed in the only clash accompanying the revolt. The fourteen were aboard a bus which was caught in a cross-fire between the troops and forces, which put up a brief show of resistance at the Naval Engineering School in the suburbs.

Castillo's war minister, Gen. Pedro Ramirez, joined Rawson in the revolt. The two are old friends and military classmates.

When Ramirez went over to his opponents, Castillo named Gen. Rodolfo Marquez as War Minister and told him to crush the rebellion. But Marquez' troops refused to obey him.

Rawson was said to have made Ramirez, Gen. Juan Giovanelli and an unidentified naval officer members of his military council which was pledged to remove disunity among the Argentines, as well as the fraud and "moral corruption" which Rawson said Castillo's regime had fostered.

Airplanes were reported to have dropped proclamations in which Rawson said Argentina would collaborate fully in the Pan-American war front.

The new leader of Argentina was made cavalry commander last year when Ramirez left the same post to join Castillo's Cabinet. He was born in Santiago del Estero in 1884. He is a member of a distinguished family and his father was an army officer.

CASTILLO ARRIVES OFF URUGUAY

MONTEVIDEO, June 4 (AP).—President Ramon Castillo and his ministers who fled a military revolt in Argentina arrived at the Uruguayan port of Colonia tonight, but informed sources said the ousted officials were not entering into exile.

The Uruguayan Ministry of the Interior granted permission for the entry of the political fugitives, but it was said Castillo refused to leave his "seat of Government" aboard the Argentine river boat Drummond.

Instead, Castillo sent his interior minister, Miguel Culaciati, ashore to obtain food and medicine for himself and the other members of the isolationalist cabinet.

Sources close to the Uruguayan Interior Ministry said Castillo refused to land because he would lose his rights as President, and the Drummond was kept ready to sail back into the river.

An Argentine President must receive Congressional approval to leave the country.

Castillo already had issued a proclamation from his floating government seat refusing to recognize the provisional military regime set up in his absence by Generals Arturo Rawson and Pedro Ramirez.

Unconfirmed reports from Colonia said all of Castillo's ministers were aboard the Drummond at that port 110 miles across the Rio de la Plata from Buenos Aires.

Infantry troops and maritime police threw a heavy cordon around the port.

Miners to Work

With the end of the strike, the wage controversy will revert to the War Labor Board which presumably will determine then whether to order a resumption of negotiations on portal-to-portal pay.

Ickes late today gave formal assurance to the miners that a $30 boost in vacation pay allowances and free tools and equipment will be waiting them when they return to work.

The boss of the Government-operated mines, in a statement proclaiming the reopening of the mines, also gave a "guarantee that the mines will be operated so as to safeguard the (union) rights of the workers," and promised continuance of "customary working conditions" and procedure for adjustment of grievances.

The increase in vacation pay from $20 to $50 and free provision and maintenance of tools and euipment were granted as adjustments in the labor contracts of the private operators in accordance with directions from the War Labor Board, which the President told Ickes yesterday to put into effect.

Together, these adjustments were estimated unofficially to be worth 25 cents a day to each miner.

bombing and strafing action against the Japanese over the length of the Tungting Lake-Yangtze area and announced that the second attack in two days was believed to have disrupted traffic on the enemy-held Canton-Hankow railway at a terminal near Changyani.

American fighters caught and sprayed two Japanese columns of troops, each more than a mile long, on the road between recaptured Changyang and Itu, later attacking four more columns on the same road.

"The complete surprise and viciousness of the attacks resulted in heavy enemy casualties," the American communique said.

Near Itu itself, seven enemy plane and troop barges were blasted in the Yangtze, and other river craft were attacked.

Six Japanese Zeros were destroyed, probably destroyed or damaged against the loss of a single Allied pilot.

RETREAT APPEARS TO BE NEARLY A ROUT

WASHINGTON, June 4 (AP).—China's Foreign Minister told President Roosevelt today about the details of the fighting in China and said afterward that air reconnaissance indicated that Japanese retreat in the Ichang area appears to be turning into a rout.

Thse envoy, T. V. Soong commented to reporters that the Chinese are fighting for the first time with an air umbrella, and "what a world of difference it makes!" Chungking, the provisional Chinese capital, now is safe, Soong said.

Report Growth of Prairie Crops Late

WINNIPEG, June 4 (CP).—Growth of Prairie crops this year is anywhere from ten days to two weeks later than normal, the agricultural department of the Canadian National Railways said today in its weekly crop report.

In some fields, seeded early, wheat is well above ground and flax is coming through, but where seeding has not been completed, rain and cool weather have further delayed field operations, the report says.

Sufficient moisture has fallen at all points to carry the crop for some time. A few districts report fields water-logged, with the possibility of further reduction in wheat and coarse grain acreage.

"Crops in some districts are a bit patchy owing to cool weather and uneven germination," the report continues. "In other districts frosts have caused temporary local setbacks. The crying need is for warm, sunny weather. Pastures are getting lush and livestock is thriving.

Baptists Call for Gov't. Regulations To Control Liquor

VANCOUVER, June 4 (CP).—British Columbia Baptists, clergymen and laymen, meeting in convention in Vancouver yesterday passed resolutions calling for Government regulations for the control of the manufacture and sale of liquor with a view to eventual complete elimination.

The resolution commended Prime Minister Mackenzie King for his stand against liquor and urged the appointment of a provincial liquor control commission including representatives of church, school, labor, industry and social welfare groups.

Another resolution urged the complete abolition of lotteries, including those, "under the guise of patriotic endeavor."

A third resolution expressed disapproval of "attempts to invade the sancity of the Lord's Day by commercialization and other secular amusements."

Presbyterian Church Budget Receipts at Highest Since 1933

HAMILTON, June 4 (CP).—John M. Thomson, chairman of the Board of Administration, today told the Sixty-Ninth General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada budget receipts for the year ending January 31, 1943, were the highest since 1933.

Mr. Thomson said $332,428 was received, and increase of $29,626 over the previous year. There was a surplus of $30,838 on the year's operations which was applied to reduce the accumulated deficit, now $146,074.

The Board of Administration recommended no paid financial agent be appointed in view of the proposal to appoint a field secretary for the budget fund. The assembly accepted $500,000 as the budget allocation for 1944.

City barber shops plan to increase the price of a shave from 25c to 35c. They claim there is no profit in a 25c shave . . . A new postage stamp commemorating Poland's resistance to the Nazis will go on sale in the United States on June 22 as the first of a series of eleven stamps honoring the citizens of occupied countries in Europe . . . From New World: "When the British Eighth Army broke through to join the United States forces in Tunisia, the first question asked was, 'Have you got any beer?' This statement will probably shock Parliament, but the United States Government buys beer and ships it to forces all over the world. A member of the Canadian Parliament is whining because the boys in Tunisia are having a glass of beer. He whimpered because the soldiers fighting in dust storms, and super-heated tanks sometimes feel that their parched throats could be eased a little with a bottle of beer. These soldiers who are dying for us are men, and as men they have a right to a drink. It is all very well for milk-fed pussyfoots living in safe, sheltered homes, protected from the elements, to throw up their hands in shocked protest about the actions of men. The conduct and actions of men on a battlefield are not polite. They smoke, chew, swear, and are violent, which is distressing to high-minded milk-toasts, but take them for all in all, they are men and prefer beer to milk-shakes" . . . Bill, the Broad Street barber, went to a bank yesterday to purchase some travelers' cheques for a projected holiday. "What denomination?" a teller asked. "Church of England," Bill absently replied.

Manitoba Conference Urges Higher Old Age And Blind Pensions

WINNIPEG, June 4 (CP). — The Manitoba conference of the United Church of Canada yesterday adopted a resolution urging higher old-age and blind pensions.

The resolution commended the Manitoba Government for increasing old-age pensions by $1.25 a month and urged the Federal Government to provide an additional $3.75 a month to those whose need of help is proven.

Another resolution adopted urged the ministry and laity alike be outspoken in expressions of disapproval of "social drinking in the homes of church people."

G. F. Denyes, of Elkhorn, Man., said there should be a more aggressive temperance campaign by church workers.

According to Culbertson - - -

Conventionally, a penalty double of three no trump calls for a lead of the suit bid by the defenders, or in some cases, a lead of the suit bid by the about-to-be dummy. This, like all conventions, is based on common sense. Occasionally, however, a higher form of logic enters the picture, and at such times it is up to the leader to discriminate between conflicting courses. Note today's deal.

South, dealer.

Neither side vulnerable.

SOUTH

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	1 ♥	2 ♣	Pass
2 NT	Pass	3 NT	Dbl.
Rdbl.	Pass	Pass	Pass

West looked upon East's penalty double as an absolute command to lead either hearts, the suit bid bid by West, or clubs, the suit bid by North. Since the latter course was impossible West being void of clubs he "obediently" opened the ten of hearts. This lead was both final and fatal in the sense that it immediately gave declarer nine sure tricks. Winning with the heart queen, he had only to take the precaution of leading a low club toward dummy's queen, then take the proved finesse against East's club jack.

If West had given more thought to the most significant call of the whole series, South's redouble (which, incidentally, was a "flirting-with-death" action), he might have found the clue to the correct opening lead. Conceivably, the opponents might have gone to three no trump without adequate heart protection, but it was inconceivable that South would have redoubled without being fully prepared for the lead of West's bid suit. Thus, despite any so-called conventional meaning of East's double, West should have relied on his own common sense, and doublecrossed the opponents to the extent of opening a suit for which they might not be so well prepared. Obviously, I refer to a spade lead. This would have given the defenders five tricks before the declarer could even catch his breath and would have changed the final result considerably.

It is all very well for one partner to be "obedient" to the fancied commands of the other, but it is far better to proceed along the lines of pure logic.

Vancouver Shipyards to Employ Women to Ease Shortage of Manpower

Expect Jobs to Be Open for 2,000 Persons By End of June and No Men Are Available

VANCOUVER, June 4 (CP).—Facing a quickening tempo of war production and depleted personnel through enlistments in the armed services, and the compulsory transfer of farmers and loggers to their previous vocations, Vancouver shipyards are mapping plans to replace manpower with womanpower.

Three steel shipyards and a fabrication plant already have started preparation of women's buildings to accommodate the influx of female help necessary to alleviate, to some extent at least, the manpower shortage which some yard officials estimate will reach the 2,000 mark within the next month.

"I can't see where they are going to find the men," said F. B. Coles, assistant regional supervisor of selective service. "The Prairie manpower market has been drained and there is no known reserve pool anywhere in Canada."

TO TAKE ON 300 WOMEN

North Van Ship Repairs Ltd. needs 300 men now and expects to take on that many women as soon as accommodation is provided.

"The women will be used in whatever jobs they are suited for," said an official. "They can't handle the heavy jobs in the yard but they can be used as passers and markers and other classifications to take up some of the slack caused by personnel loss."

The two Wallace Shipyards, North and South Burrard, also are planning additional women employees.

"We are losing men right along and can't get replacements," said a South Burrard official. "So we are preparing to take on women to relieve the pressure. We must provide accommodation for them which holds us up a bit at the moment but construction of women's buildings is under way."

Both yards face a shortage of more than 1,000 men and that may jump to around 2,000 with additional work expected to get under way this month.

HAMILTON BRIDGE EXPECTS SHORTAGE

Hamilton Bridge Western Ltd., fabricating plant for West Coast Shipbuilders Ltd., has lost only six men to the farms and three to the logging industry during the past month, but expects a definite manpower shortage in the near future and plans women's buildings to accommodate more feminine employees.

"Another month and we will be taking on a number of women, depending, of course, on the manpower situation which may be quite serious then," said a spokesman.

The trend is the same at West Coast where officials said they could use up to 150 employees of various classifications, but held little hope they could fill their gaps with women.

"We can always use welders and burners and helpers as well," said one official. "However, we are in the position of doing heavy shipwork in our yard and women could not handle it. For instance, you wouldn't get a woman going up as a stager or rigger. It's hard enough to get men to do it."

ANTI-BOMBING "UNREAL"

LONDON, June 4 (CP).—Much as the Church of England would like to see the abolishment of bombing it realizes any such attitude is "unreal." This is set forth in the Church of England newspaper. "It is a perverse view of Christianity which argues that civilians must not be killed while acquiescing that soldiers must be killed," said the paper.

"Dina Cashman"

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

CHAPTER XLVII

Instead her room became the centre of unwonted activity. Friends who had not come to the Holland home for years appeared with good wishes and presents for the new Holland baby; messengers with flowers and with telegrams came and went, and the tiny Margaret was regularly displayed by her beaming attendant to afternoon callers.

But with the rapidity characteristic of the invalid who does not suffer, and with her own active mind and imagination to aid her, Dina presently settled to the inevitable and found her days surprisingly full. Miss Rafferty, whose affection and enthusiasm and sympathy were in themselves a cure, was busy with her for an hour or two after her leisurely breakfast. When the newspapers and the tray, the soaps and towels and basins had gone the baby came in, and her bassinet was placed where her mother, looking downward, could study the small placid face for quarter hours together. Before Margaret's 2 o'clock and 6 o'clock bottles Dina could hold her for a blissful interval, and now and then when Margaret roared in the night Ida brought her in to her mother while a warm meal and a dry crib were being prepared.

Every day the little Spanish nun came over for a lesson, and Dina worked hard at her written exercises. In midafternoon, when the baby slept, she dozed, and afterward she was helped into her prettiest nightgown and her jacket, and callers found her fresh and philosophical and there was much laughter in the room.

Sometimes Rogers came up to join the women, and Dina rejoiced to see that he grew more and more to enjoy these visits and these visitors, when Lily would bring up trays of tall glasses and the talk turn to old days. Rogers' mother had been a social leader and a friend to all these women as young girls or younger wives.

There was much congratulation for the father of the small, sturdy, flourishing Holland baby, and he accepted it pleasantly and watched Margaret's progress with almost as much interest as Dina's own.

The big Victrola had been moved upstairs, and after a few games of cards after dinner, when Dina grew tired of her somewhat cramped position, there was a concert. Rogers brought records upstairs, assorted them and arranged them in order, and himself went about lowering lights and placing chairs.

Dina would settle on her pillows, Miss Rafferty come in quietly to slip into a chair, Rogers lie back in his own great leather chair, and the glorious strains of operas, Rosenkavalier and Rheingold, Boris and even Iolanthe, would drift through the quiet place. Dina came to know Tschaikowsky's symphonies, Beethoven's majestic sonatas, Vienna waltzes, and Russian ballets. Sometimes tears would be on her cheeks as she listened; she would open her eyes to smile across the room at her husband.

"Chopin," he would apologize. "Too sad for you!

"No, I love it!" And she did love, even though it semeed to have the power to wash away all the changes and pain of the past years and take her back again to the wild, gay, gypsy little Dina who had mothered her brothers and sisters at ten, and camped wherever parents' fickle fancy stopped the shabby car, and dreamed of a future in which whatever happened she, Dina Cashman, would always be a leader and an idol.

She played patience if ever there was a dull hour; she had books of puzzles and became so absorbed in them that often the announcement of a visitor caused her a pang of regret.

And she had books, an endless river of books poured through the room. Mrs. Bucket rarely entering without one or two that she had picked from the old library downstairs. Rogers' instructing a San Francisco bookseller to keep her supplied with what was new.

Above all, there was the baby for an inexhaustible distraction joy. All the women in the house circled about Margaret, and the slightest fluctuation in her little routine caused them wild excitement.

Miss Rafferty, the tiny, dainty, always immaculately clad nurse, would go skimming downstairs for fresh bed linen or a malted milk from the refrigerator. Chong would come puffing upstairs with the baby's bottle; Ida, the colored girl, and Lily, the upstairs maid, debated daily as to just what corner of the sunporch should be honored by the crib. Mrs. Bucket was early convinced the baby knew her and repeatedly sent both maids off to an evening's movies for the express purpose of being left in charge of the sleeping infant.

What Dina thought of her small daughter nobody could have said, least of all Dina. The familiar phrase "having a baby" and the cataclysmic world-shaking experience of having brought Margaret into the world seemed to have nothing in common.

It had taken her to new depths of terror and suffering and raised her to new heights of joy.

These were her secrets; she could share them with no one. But she liked to lie still at night and bring them to memory like treasures to be turned over and hugged to her heart in the darkness or to waken before the Summer dawn, when a pearly light was in the room and Margaret, fussing for her first meal could be heard in the adjoining apartment, and remember it all again.

Of the accident she had no impression whatsoever. On that fatal morning Rogers had been driving her to the city. Andrew Havens had been at the house earlier in the day, adding some finishing touches to her portrait.

The portrait had been completed weeks earlier, but Andrew's exhibition had been postponed until the Fall and he wanted to lighten the shadow on Dina's face—so he said—give more life to her hair. Dina and Rogers had been talking casually as the car approached the underpass entering South San Francisco.

Gay cotton frocks made a brilliant contrast to the smart uniforms of the services present. Each Stagette was distinctive with her club pin and traditional white flower in her hair. The club emblem, a stag's head in tones of brown, against a green sphere, with lights trained on it, formed an artistic background for the orchestra. Prizes for novelty dances were won by: First, Miss Margaret Brotherston and Harry Rowbottom, and second, Helen Baker and W. Wallace. The Baptist Women's Missionary Society of British Columbia concluded the twenty-ninth annual convention in Vancouver on Thursday and advocated that shipment of beer overseas be stopped, claiming that the money value of the 800,000 dozens of beer per month shipped overseas since 1941 is more than the money value of tools of war shipped to Russia.

I.O.D.E. Asks Permanent Hospital at Victoria

EDMONTON, June 4 (CP).—Declaring that the present hospitals in Victoria are "inadequate to give care and treatment to men and women of the armed forces," and that these men and women must now travel to Vancouver for treatment, a resolution was passed at the final session of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire's national convention today calling for establishment of a permanent hospital and clinic at Victoria for the servicemen and ex-servicemen.

People who because of their creed [illegible] in the defence of Canada should not be allowed to purchase land in the Dominion, and servicemen and women should receive first consideration in any postwar plan, the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire decided.

Resolutions endorsed asked the Dominion to take immediate steps to prevent purchase of property by persons who by their creed, "will not take an active part in the defence of Canada," and asked that the Dominion provide first for the rehabilitation of returned and rejected men and women in any postwar reconstruction plan.

The resolution dealing with postwar consideration for servicemen and women pointed out that in the postwar period Canada could expect a great tide of immigrants from the countries dislocated by the war. The policy of immigration to be followed was the responsibility of the Dominion Government, the resolution said.

Mrs. W. B. Hoskins, of Toronto, was re-elected as national president of the order, and Mrs. L. B. Smart was returned as national secretary, with Mrs. W. R. Walton, Jr., of Toronto, installed as treasurer.

Councillors of the National Chapter, I.O.D.E., were announced at today's concluding session as follows:

British Columbia — Mrs. J. W. Dougan, Trail; Mrs. W. N. Martin and Mrs. A. J. M. McFarlane, both Vancouver, and Mrs. Curtis Sampson, Victoria.

Mrs. R. W. Mayhew gave the devotional, choosing as her topic, "Finding the Way to the Christian Life Through Prayer." Mrs. R. H. Nash, accompanied by Mrs. R. Cartwright, sang by special request. Miss I. Renwick gave a brief talk on the stewardship of self.

Miss Pearl More was in charge of the meeting, assisted by Miss Bolton, who read the roll call of the years. Members of the original group read excerpts from the minutes of early meetings and some items brought both pleasant and sad associations to mind.

Greetings and congratulations from Senior W.M.S. were conveyed by Mrs. O. A. Butters and Mrs. Smith, of the Gleaners.

Mrs. W. G. Wilson, who organized the auxiliary in 1923, was unable to be present, but sent a message of congratulation and best wishes for the future.

A telegram from Mrs. T. B. Cousland, of Pasadena, Cal., a former leader, was read. Mrs. Shaw, treasurer, reported that in the twenty years the Golden Link had sent over $6,000 to mission work.

Miss N. M. McKillican moved a vote of thanks to Mrs. McLennan and Mrs. Nash.

The meeting closed with the singing of "Blest Be the Tie That Binds" and the Mizpah Benediction. All inscribed their names in the new record book.

Refreshments were served from a beautifully decorated table, at which Mrs. H. A. McLeod and Mrs. Chisholm presided. Mrs. A. Hunkin, first president, served the birthday cake.

Victoria Symphony To Give Concert On June 14 and 15

The Victoria Symphony Orchestra will give the last concert of the season on Monday and Tuesday evening, June 14 and 15 in the ballroom of the Empress Hotel, commencing at 8:15 o'clock. The orchestra will be conducted by Melvin Knudsen and judging by the wide demand for reservations keen interest is being evidenced in the work of Mr. Knudsen and his musicians.

Many patrons were turned away from the first concert held last February, through limited accommodation, so this time it was decided to give two performances.

It is reported on good authority that the orchestra comprising forty-five members has worked seriously with the conductor, and the consequent development is marked, and most gratifying to those interested in Victoria's symphony orchestra.

Many of the artists taking part in the programme are members of the three services, and several have membership in the R.C.N. band and Woodwind Ensemble, the latter group being recently heard in a delightful programme of chamber music with Mrs. Dorothy Graham at the piano. The R.C.N. band is well-known throughout Canada for its musical attainments.

It is announced by members of the committee that new members are being admitted to the society who are "interested in the progress and development of this worthy and cultural cause," as one member expressed the Victoria Symphony Orchestra.

What Today Means

GEMINI

If June 5 is your birthday the best hours for you on this date are from 10:15 a.m. to 12:15 a.m., from 2:15 to 4:15 p.m. and from 8:15 to 10:15 p.m. The danger periods are from 8:15 to 10:15 a.m., from 6:15 to 8:15 p.m. and from 10:15 p.m. until midnight.

It might be well to start the day remembering: "There is nothing either good or bad, but thinking makes it so," so it behooves you to do a lot of straight thinking. A common fault will be attaching an undue amount of importance to irritating remarks made by people possessing but a medium of good breeding and a limited amount of intelligence, so ignore any made to you. A tendency to become easily excited makes it advisable for the average person to avoid engaging in arguments, particularly those involving political issues. Arm chair strategists, in particular, will show good judgment if they remain mum, for future revelations may make any statements they make on this date appear ridiculous. Married and engaged couples, and those basking in cupid's smiles, may discover, if they indulge in it, an undue amount of questioning is not conducive to the maintenance of harmonious relationships or a peaceful conversation.

If you are a woman and June 5 is your birthday, people may mistake you for a very easy-going person until they arouse your ire, and then they are apt to discover you are fully capable of holding your own. You probably possess a dynamic amount of energy and have very little patience with those displaying a lack of it. As a teacher, business manager, trained nurse, news reporter, personal director, actress, artist, musician, lecturer, sales agent, publicity expert, stenographer, secretary, librarian or doing your part to help win the war, you may make yourself an outstandingly successful woman with an income proportionate to your efforts. Love apparently will exercise a mighty influence over your matrimonial affairs and enable you to experience the blessings of a happy marriage.

The child born on June 5 frequently displays a remarkable amount of intuition, good judgment and good sportsmanship whenever there is any occasion for it. This youngster may have a remarkable capacity for absorbing knowledge and have the gift of making practical use of it. A bright future generally lies ahead of Gemini children.

Leading Roles in New Comedy

Jack Benny and Priscilla Lane have the leading roles in the 20th Century-Fox comedy, "The Meanest Man in the World," which is currently showing at the Dominion Theatre. They are ably abetted in the merriment by Rochester, Edmund Gwenn, Anne Revere and Helene Reynolds.

If you are a man and June 5 is your natal day you probably possess an unusually keen sense of taste and smell, and this is apt to be reflected in your display of food consciousness, and fastidiousness regarding your meals. As a restaurateur, business executive, financier, physician, dentist, chemist, jurist, manufacturer, clergyman, broker, promoter, politician, inventor, or as a member of the army, navy or air force, you may distinguish yourself in more ways than one.

ELDERLY ORANGEMEN DIES

ACTON, Ont., June 4 (CP).—One of Ontario's oldest Orangemen, Hugh Jordan, ninety-four, died at the home of his son, Hubert, here today. For twenty-five years he was a member of the board of Weyburn Methodist Church, Weyburn, Sask., until he retired twelve years ago.

At the Theatres

ATLAS THEATRE Seven hit songs are featured in Paramount's greatest musical comedy, "Star Spangled Rhythm," which ends tonight at the Atlas Theatre. "That Old Black Magic," "Sharp as a Tack," "Old Glory," "A Sweater, a Sarong, and a Peek-a-boo Bang," "I'm Doing It for Defence," "On the Swing Shift" and "Hit the Road to Dreamland." The songs are backgrounds for the singing, dancing funshow which has the greatest all-star cast ever assembled, including Bing Crosby, Bob Hope, Fred MacMurray, Franchot Tone, Ray Milland, Victor Moore, Dorothy Lamour and many others.

CADET THEATRE Novel dancing routines attracting favorable comment by audiences at the Cadet Theatre where Universal's "When Johnny Comes Marching Home," ends tonight, were staged by the well-known Louis Da Pron. Co-stars Gloria Jean, Peggy Ryan, Donald O'Connor and the Four Step Brothers are seen in the dancing sequences. Allan Jones and Jane Frazee have other starring roles and the film is musically enhanced by the appearance of Phil Spitalny and his Hour of Charm All Girl Orchestra.

CAPITOL THEATRE At it again are Betty Hutton and Eddie Bracken that terrific twosome of "The Fleet's In" and "Star Spangled Rhythm." This time they're in Paramount's Technicolor musicomedy, "Happy Go Lucky," which ends tonight at the Capitol Theatre with Mary Martin, Dick Powell, Rudy Vallee and Sir Lancelot, the Calypso singer.

DOMINION THEATRE Priscilla Lane's dulcet voice, the kind that melts most men's hearts, passes right over the head of Jack Benny, who is tough as stone and hard as nails in "The Meanest Man in the World," the uproarious 20th Century-Fox comedy now showing at the Dominion Theatre. Jack's at his best in the hilarious film, and gets in many a merry scrape by trying to make good in the worst way.

OAK BAY AND PLAZA THEATRES Both Victoria favorites, Faust and Stephanie Bachelor, recently put under long-term contract by Producer Hunt Stromberg, begin their screen careers by being murdered in Barbara Stanwyck's "Lady of Burlesque," thrilling mystery set against the exciting background of a burlesque show which ends tonight at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres. The new screen beauties take comfort and hope from the fact that Lana Turner was murdered in the first reel of her first picture. She's managed pretty well since.

RIO THEATRE Following the advice of Professor Robert Emmett Rogers of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology that "the only way for a young man to get ahead these days is to marry the boss' daughter," Bruce Edwards, the hero of the comedy hit, "Marry the Boss' Daughter," which ends tonight at the Rio Theatre, decides not to waste his time with the hired help. It's the boss' daughter, Brenda Joyce, or nothing for him.

YORK THEATRE Miss Garland portrays two roles in "Little Nellie Kelly," which ends tonight at the York Theatre. She enacts first the young Irish mother, and later the thoroughly Americanized daughter. The songs she sings include "It's a Great Day for the Irish," "Pretty Girl Milking Her Cow" and the more modern "Singin' in the Rain." Murphy is seen as Miss Garland's husband, and later as her father. Charles Winninger appears as the grandfather.

Cadet Branches In the Province To Be Enlarged

David H. Gibson, president of the Navy League of Canada, said here yesterday that the league contemplates enlarging the Penticton, Revelstoke, Nelson and Trail centres and may possibly open a new branch at Nanaimo.

He said he was very proud of the Rainbow Sea Cadets of Victoria, who are among the finest in Canada. "They have given marked service in this war and have a wonderful record for bravery," he said. It is this branch which has held the Devonshire Cup longest of any in Canada.

The Navy League president said the citizens of Victoria had done much in support of this movement, but a great deal more must be done to lift it to its proper place in the Dominion. Only recently seventy young men had applied for enrollment, and 200 more could easily be found if they had more accommodation.

Winnipeg, he stated, with 800 strong, had the largest corps in Canada, and Calgary was second with 600 cadets.

Speaking of the training given school cadets, Mr. Gibson said:

"There is much to be done. In my judgment they should have one common syllabus for training the boys in school; later, boys who are air-minded or navy-minded, or who want to go into the army, could choose whichever branch of the services they wished."

The Navy League president will leave today for a tour of Navy League branches in the Interior of the province.

Cast Up at Scene of the Ship's Launching

Timber From a Wooden Schooner Launched in the Great War From the Cholberg Yard on the Industrial Reserve Here.

Timber With Ship's Name On Returns to Scene of Launching

Hatch-Piece From Tolmie Drifts to Shipyard Site

By F. M. KELLEY

SOME twenty-odd years ago the wooden schooner S. F. Tolmie, named after one of British Columbia's most prominent sons, slid down the launching ways of the Cholberg shipyard, then located on the present site of the Sweeny Cooperage, Limited, Industrial Reserve. Two days ago an extra high tide left a piece of heavy hardwood timber stranded on the shore immediately in line with the position of the ways on which the vessel it had belonged to was built. The timber, the dimensions of which are roughly twelve feet by twelve by fourteen inches, had evidently been part of the hatch structure of the schooner at one time, for the name "S. F. Tolmie" is carved deeply into its face.

The return of the timber to the very spot at which it had been fashioned and placed into a section of the ship almost a quarter of a century since was not involved in any old mystery nor did it even hint at any recent tragedy of the sea in this neighborhood. The Tolmie, as far as in-the-know waterfront folk are aware and believe, is still afloat and in service; but it is none the less a bit extraordinary that the bulky length of timber with the ship's name inscribed upon it should be cast up and left high and dry on the site of the yard from whence the ship, of which it had been a part, had been launched, after drifting from beach to beach at the direction of the winds and tides for a period of years maybe.

Short wisps of sea grass had found precarious holding ground here and there along the four sides of the timber and numerous small bits of angular beach sand and gravel had been embedded into some of the softer spots as the waves rolled it over and over along storm-swept stretches of shorelines, all of which denoted it had been flotsam for some considerable time. What had been its tide-borne buffetings since it first was cast adrift on its own is quite beyond guesswork. One thing is certain, it happened to finish up where its sea service started. The explanation of how it came to be in the water at all must await the return of the S. F. Tolmie to Ogden Point docks, where she calls occasionally.

THROWN OVERBOARD WHEN ALTERATIONS WERE MADE

In the meantime it is thought by some members of the waterfront fraternity, and this is the opinion of C. W. Tourtellotte, in charge of Canadian National properties at Ogden Point, that alterations made when the Tolmie was converted into a barge several years back had probably necessitated the enlargement of the hatches and as the material was torn away all unwanted debris would be dumped overboard, it being the most convenient way to get rid of it under the circumstances, this particular piece eventually landing ashore between the stumps of dolphins that served as markers for the ways on which the Tolmie was constructed.

The S. F. Tolmie was completed late in 1919, and was employed in various enterprises until she was converted into a barge for the transport of logs and heavy timbers. She is now owned by Gibson Brothers and is a frequent caller at Ogden Point piers in connection with the spruce production programme centred there. Her most recent call was about the middle of last month.

STEVESTON, B.C., June 4 (CP) — The first fishing boats to be built here by white men in thirty-five years—thirty-foot gillnetters—have been launched, breaking the Japanese monopoly of nearly four decades.

New Record Set on England-Australia Flight by Bomber

NEW YORK, June 4 (CP). — The B.B.C. said today a record has been set up by an Australian bomber crew which flew a Lancaster from Britain to Australia, by way of the Atlantic, Canada and the Pacific. The B.B.C. said this was "the first time one crew has ever flown an aircraft from Britain to Australia by this route." The time required for the flight was not given.

D.F.C. Awarded to Four Canadians

LONDON, June 4 (CP).—Awards of the Distinguished Flying Cross to four Canadian officers were announced today.

The recipients are:

Sqdn.-Ldr. F. H. Boulton and Acting Flt.-Lt. Robert Buckham, both of Vancouver. A second address for Boulton is given as Coleman, Alta.

Acting Flt.-Lt. Harry Deane MacDonald, of Toronto.

F.O. Frank Edward Lewis, of St. James, Man.

Air Force Headquarters in Ottawa, in announcing the awards of the D.F.C. to Sqdn. Ldr. Boulton, Thursday night, reported him as missing. He commanded the R.C.A.F. City of Oshawa Spitfire Squadron.

New Manager Here

Arriving here to take over the post as shipyard manager, vacated last week by John Rannie on the latter's transfer to the East, H. Campbell, formerly with the Canadian Vickers' shipyard in Eastern Canada, spent yesterday morning looking over the plant at V.M.D. which he will superintend.

Mr. Campbell came from Vancouver with William Dey and other officials of Wartime Merchant Shipping Ltd., and was met here by T. W. MacPherson, local representative of the national shipbuilding organization.

Airman Drowned

EDMONTON, June 4 (CP) — Sgt. Frederick Charles Hawes, R.C.A.F., lost his life despite rescue attempts made when he lost his balance in a boat on a northern lake.

He is survived by his father, S. J. Hawes, of Saskatoon.

The body was flown to Edmonton, Thursday, and will be sent to Saskatoon today for burial. No inquest will be held. Further details will be released later.

Local Wholesale Produce Market

A few local strawberries have arrived on wholesale row, but there will be no great quantity until the end of next week it is reported. Washington strawberries are expected today, however.

There are more gooseberries now appearing on the row, and shipments of apricots, plums and watermelon are due early next week. Cantaloupe are due today.

A shipment of potatoes arrived on vegetable row yesterday, but there will be no more until the first of the week, and they will continue to be very short in Victoria for at least another two weeks, officials say. The new Government subsidy to growers comes into effect on Monday, with the result that retail prices will be $20 a ton cheaper, and the ceiling on both new and old potatoes will decline to four cents a pound.

Asparagus is very scarce this week-end. Local lettuce will be a little lower in price next week, and tomatoes are reported to be very reasonable at present.

PENCILLIN NEW DRUG

LONDON (CP). — Scientists are trying to purify pencillin, a new drug which Health Minister Brown believes is unlikely to be available yet for general use because of the great difficulties involved in its production. Pencillin is derived from a minute green mould.

Crew Rescued

AN EAST COAST CANADIAN PORT, June 4 (CP).—A Nova Scotia fishing schooner has brought into port the entire crew of a United Nations merchant ship sunk by enemy action off the seaboard of that province.

More than forty men were in the crew. All had been out of range of the explosion when it blasted their ship under the surface.

The auxiliary schooner Caroline Rose, fishing out of Lunenburg, N.S., picked up the seamen. The men were in three lifeboats.

Fishermen on the schooner said the freighter's crew had been in the boats only a short time when the Rose, under Capt. Calvin Tanner, came upon them.

All the survivors were in good shape.

Glancing Over Sport—

By JOE DELAHUNTY

THE DAY'S

The Eagles' ball club is still cooped up in the "dark spot," but it nearly won a ball game last night from the Flyers, missing out by a single run after nine innings of a free-scoring battle. Jack Bacon, veteran player, went behind the plate for the birdmen and did a mighty good job of receiving those pitches, despite his years. "Jake," as I call him, gives out his signals just as smart as ever and knows the score when it comes to handling twirlers. . . . As soon as William Hells bought this race horse called Attention, he hired one of the best riders in the country to pilot him in acquiring the services of Jockey Georgie Woolf. He is one of the best-mannered "jocks" on the continent. Just glance back over the big races and you will find out that Woolf doesn't miss cashing in very often. . . . My old friend, Bill Collins, dropped into the office yesterday, and during the conversation he said that the only thing the matter with the Seattle Rainiers is that they haven't any ball players; at least he meant that they haven't even got a machine which will click. . . . I see where there is close to fifty golfers teeing off in the Jack Matson Memorial Trophy tournament tomorrow at the Gorge Vale course. One thing about the meet it will be wide open from the start, for it is thirty-six holes medal play on full handicap. Officials expect about another twenty to face Starter "Bunny" Thomson Sunday morning. Besides the coveted piece of silverware the island handicap goes along, so throw your hat in the ring and have some fun with the rest of the boys.

IN THE MAIL BAG

Dear Joe,—I have been a great admirer for many months, twenty-four to be exact, of the impartial way in which you run your sport comments. I speak with feeling, as far as twelve of these months go, when I was sports officer for the Royal Canadian Navy here on the West Coast.

There is an old adage that a wise man never lets his left hand know what his right hand is doing, but surely you know your right hand from the left. The joke is on you. Look at the picture at the foot of your sports page of Thursday, June 3. We have a small wager on it and therefore I am banking on your sportsmanship to admit that the joke, this time, is on you. How about it, Joe?

Sincerely yours,
LIEUT. D. COUGHLAN, R.C.N.V.R.
1070 Richmond Street.

Comment: Yes, lieutenant, I am afraid that you win the dice as far as that picture of Beau Jack and Bob Montgomery is concerned. I imagine that is what you are referring to. If you read yesterday's column you will see where your humble scribbler "pleaded guilty as charged." Mr. Jack wasn't throwing any right-hand punch as the lines under it stated; it was definitely a left without a question of a doubt. The joke is on me, all right, so you win the deal. It's a funny thing, lieutenant, but not one person in a hundred would notice the miscue, but anyone closely connected with the boxing game would pick it out in a second. However, that doesn't mean a thing in a newspaperman's life. In closing off, I am glad to hear from you and don't think for one minute that yours truly doesn't welcome criticism, but at the same time the joke is still on me.

ODDS AND ENDS

Do you know that there is a factory in South Africa which has decided to combat the golf ball shortage by turning out wooden ones? Well, if that's the case those long drivers will be curtailed plenty for the wooden ones won't travel very far, no matter how hard you hit them. . . . That must have been some palooka they tossed into the ring against Tony Galento as the "beer-barrel chested" heavyweight started his comeback campaign. The fellow lasted less than twenty-five seconds and now the boxing commission is holding up both purses. What they should do with them is to donate the financial contracts to some war effort and then throw both fighters out of the game indefinitely. . . . William Woodward has presented his famous stallion, Omaha, winner of the triple crown in 1935, the Kentucky Derby, Preakness and the Belmont Stakes, to the New York Jockey Club for breeding purposes. . . . Last month, advertisements appeared in Philadelphia newspapers addressed to the fans saying: "The Phillies say, thank you." Owner Bill Cox paid the shot but so did the baseball fans for more than 153,000 turned out for the first week the squad was at home, and that's good support, even if it is in the Quaker City. . . . Jimmy Syme, who used to manage the Chemainus Stevedores baseball team, dropped into the sports department yesterday afternoon for a chat. He took in last night's ball game at the Athletic Park between the Flyers and Eagles. Jimmy was telling me that all they are playing in the Up-Island cities these days is softball. "All the young fellows are in the services or working in the shipyards, and therefore it would be a headache to try and organize baseball leagues at the present time. I follow your local league by the radio and your morning paper, and by all reports you seem to have a pretty strong circuit operating.

Smacking the ball over the centre-field fence in the last half of the ninth inning after the Eagles pushed across a pair of markers to tie up the ball game a 10-10 only minutes before, Tommy Forster, keystone sacker and playing coach of the R.C.A.F. ball club, last night batted his teammates to a thrilling 11-10 victory over the Eagles.

First man to bat in the ninth frame, Forster faced Relief Pitcher Bill Arts who took over when Jack Diamond, starting flinger, was taken out of the game for a pinch-hitter, and laced the ball over the tall Pembroke Street fence. It was a timely wallop and brought to a dramatic climax one of the season's most interesting, but loosely played diamond exhibitions.

Manager George Syrotuck's proteges did some power hitting last night and with the Flyers shared in one of the hardest hitting exhibitions in the current season's flag chase. Twenty-seven base hits were collected by the two squads, with the Birdmen punching out fifteen, three more than the R.C.A.F. The barrage of safeties included a circuit smash, a triple and eight doubles.

EAGLES BLAST ROGERS OFF MOUND IN FOURTH

Eagles made a gallant fight to snap their losing streak at six games, and after coming from behind to tie up the ball game in the ninth had their hopes blasted when Forster strolled to the plate and hit the ball out of the park.

However, in defeat the Birdmen showed more power at the plate than in any previous contest, and that certainly pleased Manager George Syrotuck. Eagles blasted Rogers, starting R.C.A.F. hurler from the hillock with a fusilade of base knocks in the fourth, but had trouble getting to Jerry Ray and Martin, relief pitchers.

While it was a free-scoring and heavy-hitting fixture the game produced some smart baseball, with Jack Stratton, veteran fly shagger, playing his most brilliant game of the season in leftfield. Stratton pulled down four smart catches, his best being the line drive he picked off Jimmy Lowe's bat in the sixth frame.

Lowe, covering the "hot corner" for the Flyers, raced a city block three times to pull down sensational foul line catches.

Jack Diamond pitched eight frames for the Eagles after Stoltz, starting hurler, walked the first man to face him and pitched two balls on the next batter before Manager George Syrotuck rushed for the "hook." Diamond was much improved over his first start and while he bumped in to a lot of trouble, heaved fair ball.

Jack Bacon, ace of backstoppers more than two decades ago, donned the catcher's pads again last night and turned in a creditable performance behind the dish. The "red head" played cautiously all evening and caught a grand game.

Flyers used three hurlers before finally halted the Eagles in their bid for victory. Rogers started and lasted less than four frames, while Ray took over to finish the fourth session. Martin finished the game.

Noel Morgan, Eagles, and Parent, Flyers, led the batters, each punching out three hits out of four trips to the plate.

Castilloux weighed 135 and Johnson 139 1-2.

Castilloux's sharp left jab which he continually poked in Johnson's face, gave him seven of the ten rounds by the judges' count. The New Yorker took two rounds and the other was even.

A crowd of 5,000 watched the card.

The Fleet Sails This Afternoon

Expected to Win Belmont Stakes Without Opposition From Field

NEW YORK, June 4 (CP).—The $25,000 Added Belmont Stakes will be run for the seventy-fifth time at Belmont Park tomorrow for the benefit of Count Fleet, Mrs. John D. Hertz' colt who has so terrorized the three-year-old division that it is becoming difficult to find rivals.

Not one of the horses the Count whipped in the Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Withers will be around when the son of Reigh Count seeks to become the sixth thoroughbred to win the triple crown (Derby, Preakness and Belmont) and the second to add the Withers to that trio of triumphs. Sir Barton turned the latter trick in 1919.

The Count's rivals tomorrow will be William Dupont's Fairy Manhurst and Beverley Bogert's Deseronto.

Fairy Manhurst, an offspring of Man o' War, has met Count Fleet once. That was last October when he trailed the champ by some twenty-five lengths. Deseronto, who like Fairy Manhurst, broke into the winning column only recently, has yet to tangle with Mrs. Hertz' flyer.

Count Fleet is expected to go postward at odds of 1 to 20, the least he can pay in the mutuels. If by chance he should bow to either of his distance-loving rivals, it'll be the biggest turf upset since Jim Dandy whipped Gallant Fox and Whichone in the Travers at Saratoga in 1930.

CAN BOOST HIS EARNINGS

Chief speculation is whether the Count will crack the American record of 2:27 2-5 for a mile and one-half hung up by Bolingbroke last Fall at Belmont.

With the race grossing around $49,500, the Count can pick up in the neighborhood of $38,000 to tack on to his winnings of $214,960.

Whirlaway, the world's leading money winner, will make his first appearance in about six months in the $5,000 Henry of Navarre Handicap, a six-furlong dash for which thirteen horses have been named.

For his first start since running his earnings to $560,911 in the Louisiana Handicap last December 12, Whirly will pick up top weight of 125 pounds and give away poundage to such worthy competitors as his own stablemate, Sun Again, With Regards, Bright Willie, Doublrab, and Cassia.

Seattle Is Beaten, 5-3

Rainiers Downed By Hollywood Nine

Southpaw Roy Joiner pitched Hollywood to a 4-3 victory over Seattle yesterday and squared the series at two games each.

Portland's crew wrecked the hopes of the Oakland ball club for the third successive day, storing a 5-1 victory. Stan Rogers, Portland third baseman, hit a home run in the sixth.

San Francisco slaughtered the offerings of two San Diego pitchers, Charlie Schanz, who was after his ninth victory, and Earl Chappel, in a twilight game, hanging up an 11-4 victory.

Nothing Odd, Galento

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., June 4 (AP).—Two Ton Tony Galento, the Orange, N.J., barkeep, says if there's anything odd about him knocking out Herbie Katz in twenty-five seconds, he "don't know a thing about it."

And the same goes for his manager, Willie (The Beard) Gilzenberg.

Reports from Tampa, where the quickie took place Tuesday night, have said it might be investigated by the 116th Field Artillery Boxing Commission, under whose supervision the fight was held.

Gilzenberg said Katz took the count of nine on his first fall and then stood up for one more lick before going down for the full count.

Cricketers Start Play

Two League Games Carded Here Today

Local cricket teams will inaugurate the 1943 league play today with two matches carded. Albion and Navy will meet at Beacon Hill, and Royal Air Force and Five C's will perform at Macdonald Park. Matches are set for 2:30 o'clock.

The twelve-week league fixture list was announced last week by W. I. Land, secretary of the Victoria and District Cricket Association, and lists forty-eight league matches. Three friendly games at the tail end of the schedule will complete the season's activities.

Beacon Hill and Macdonald Park will be used for all fixtures, with two games carded each Saturday up to and including Saturday, August 28. First three Saturdays in September will be utilized for friendly games with the R.A.F. and the annual Champions vs. The Rest finale.

Line-up of the Albion team for this afternoon's match follows: Hogarth, Edwards, Barclay, Pritchard, Dyment, E. D. Freeman, J. D. Freeman, Sherman, Bossom, Stenton and Smith.

IS RULED OFF TRACK

NEW YORK, June 4 (AP).—Eugene Nimkoff, trainer for the Mill Brook Stable, today was denied the right to enter any of his horses as the result of a New York State Racing Commission report that showed Ben Gray had been drugged in the first race at Belmont Park on May 22.

In ordering that no further entries be received from Nimkoff, pending further investigation, the stewards of Belmont Park said that horses in his charge may be transferred to another trainer approved by the stewards.

Champions Forced to Ten Frames to Beat Browns—Cooper Flashes Form

AMERICAN LEAGUE

NEW YORK, June 4 (AP).—It took the Yankees ten innings to lick Vernon Stephens today but they finally did it on a tenth-inning homer by Joe Gordon that gave the American League leaders a 6-4 victory over the last-place St. Louis Browns.

Stephens, back in the Browns' line-up for about ten days before he has to report to his draft board for a final physical examination and possible induction into the armed forces, accounted for all his team's runs. He belted a home run with the bases empty in the fourth inning, another with Milton Byrnes on base in the sixth and tied the game up in the ninth when he singled, moved around to third on Mike Chartak's base hit and an error and ran home after a long fly by Harlond Clift.

The Brownie shortstop also made a double—all off Spud Chandler—and lifted his batting average to .404.

New York got off to a two-run lead against Fritz Ostermueller in the third on a pass to Rollie Hemsley, Tuck Stainback's double and a single by George Stirnweiss. They picked up another run in the sixth, with the aid of Stirnweiss' ninth stolen base and one in the eighth on Charlie Keller's homer off George Caster. Keller also singled in the tenth to score ahead of Gordon's game-winning wallop.

Triple Decides Game

PHILADELPHIA, June 4 (AP).—Ray Mack's triple with Otto Denning on base gave Cleveland Indians a run in the eighth inning tonight and a 3-2 victory over Philadelphia Athletics before 18,894 fans in Shibe Park.

Smith, pitching masterful ball all the way, gave the Athletics only four hits but the Mackmen bunched two of them with a walk and a sacrifice to score two runs in the fifth inning after Cleveland had taken a one-run lead in the fourth.

Cleveland tied the game in the sixth on Ken Keltner's double and a single by Boser.

WASHINGTON, June 4 (AP).—Detroit Tigers produced a score on two singles and a pair of infield rollers in the ninth inning to edge out Washington 3-1 before 14,800 fans tonight. The victory sent the Tigers into second place in the tight American League race.

Tommy Bridges and Dutch Leonard, a pair of veterans, locked in a tight hurling duel for most of the route. Johnny Gorsica relieved Bridges in the eighth and was credited with the victory. Leonard went the distance.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

CHICAGO, June 4 (CP).—With their pitching staff in bad shape and their security as National League leaders threatened, Brooklyn Dodgers blasted away with base hits today and smothered the Cubs, 18-5, to retain their grip on first place.

Big Paul Derringer, the Cubs' starting pitcher, retired the first two batsmen, then the roof of Wrigley Field caved in on him. The next five men hit singles and Bill Nicholson tossed in an error for good measure and Derringer took the long walk to the showers with "six runs in." Two more hits and another run were made off Dick Barrett before the inning ended.

The Dodgers' starter, Rube Melton, also failed to survive the first inning, walking three of the first four men and allowing the other to hit. But Bobo Newsom came through with a fine relief job to earn his sixth victory of the season, scattering eight hits and fanning eight, and the Cubs never were a threat.

Camilli added three singles to his homer for a perfect day at the plate. Arky Vaughan drove in five tallies, clearing the bases with a triple in the eighth, and Newsom, himself, made three hits.

Twirls One-Hitter

ST. LOUIS, June 4 (AP).—Mort Cooper permitted Philadelphia Phillies only one hit tonight, while the Cardinals protected a two-run lead from the third inning on and hammered Charlie Fuchs for three more in the eighth to win, 5-0. Ken O'Dea homered with Ray Sanders ahead of him.

Fuchs ran into trouble after two perfect innings. Stan Musial hit safely in his twenty-first consecutive game to score Cooper from second in the third inning.

What hopes the Phillies had of making it their ball game vanished in the eighth. Harry Walker was on with a single and scored with the Cards' third run when Sanders picked up Fuchs for a two-bagger. O'Dea drove the ball far to the right centre pavilion, good enough for a home run with Sanders aboard.

The lone hit off Cooper was Jimmy Wasdell's eighth-inning single.

PITTSBURGH, June 4 (AP).—Pittsburgh Pirates made it two straight over New York tonight, 9-8, exploding a six-run rally in the fourth when Vince DiMaggio slammed a 457-foot homer inside the park, and staving off a late rally sparked by Babe Barna's three-run homer in the eighth. A crowd of 14,120 attended.

DiMaggio scored what proved to be the winning run in the Pirates' eighth, scooting all the way home from first on a passed ball to the screen. He had singled to get on.

Income Tax Is Explained to Real Estate Men

Two new points regarding income tax exemptions which are not generally known were explained by Gilbert E. Gee, C.A., of Ismay, Bolston & Co., in his address on "The Dominion Income Tax" before the Real Estate Board of Victoria at a luncheon meeting yesterday in Spencer's dining-room.

It is now possible, where a mortgage is in the wife's name, for the husband to claim payments on the mortgage as offset, as part of compulsory savings, said Mr. Gee, and another concession has been made regarding annuity payments made out of capital, formerly considered as taxable income. Now any amount paid from capital, up to $1,500 will be exempt; this will apply to 1943 income taxes, he said.

The speaker reviewed the changes in methods of collecting income taxes since 1918 when the Canadian Government instituted it and "finance ministers found it such a simple means of raising funds that they continued the scheme."

Among the changes made he cited the compulsory savings deduction, to decrease the amount of spending money available to the individual. "This amount," he said, "is to be returned within the second fiscal year after the termination of hostilities; the date for termination of hostilities to be set by the Minister of Finance, and we do not know what date he may wish to set."

Mr. Gee considered that income tax at present did not allow sufficient exemptions for the married man, only $150 being deducted from the tax for a wife and $80 for each dependent. This meant that a married man with two children, earning $3,000 would have only approximately $2,400 left to be divided among four people, while a single man earning the same amount would have $2,000 for himself alone.

Mr. Gee remarked that the new forms are greatly simplified but that it was essential that proper records be kept, if they were to be completed in a short time.

Major H. C. Holmes thanked the speaker for his informative talk; R. H. Shanks, president of the Real Estate Board presided at the luncheon.

Coal Controller Expected Today

Tom Marshall, Western representative of the coal controller, will be in Victoria today to discuss fuel problems with local dealers, it was announced yesterday.

Two coal dealers in the city said yesterday that in order to speed up deliveries of coal it may be delivered in bulk in future and left on the street or driveway. The labor shortage is the main cause for this proposal, they stated.

Already, they said, the amount of coal being delivered in bulk is increasing, as dealers can make much faster deliveries of coal in bulk than in sacks. Only one man would be needed on a truck instead of three, they said, and each truck would be able to deliver six more tons per day, by delivering wholly in bulk.

Returning yesterday by plane from Ottawa, Hon. E. C. Carson, Minister of Mines, stated his belief that sufficient men will be available to operate British Columbia's coal mines next Winter.

It will, of course, he said, take some time to enlarge the Dominion Government's scheme of taking men from other occupations, but he felt confident that the plan would be working effectively in ample time to meet coal mining needs in this province.

Armed Forces to Get Stored Food

OTTAWA, June 4 (CP).—A Defence Department spokesman said today that supplies originally destined for the Red Cross Society in Hongkong for distribution to Canadian and Allied prisoners of war, stored on a Victoria pier, now are "in process of being disposed of to the armed services."

(Considerable piles of foodstuffs, originally destined for Hongkong, had been in storage there for more than a year. Dr. F. W. Routley, of Toronto, national commissioner of the Canadian Red Cross Society, said the goods were the property of the Federal Government.)

The Defence Department source said instructions to dispose of the goods were issued three months ago and that perishable goods were moved immediately.

The goods were stored in Victoria last October, brought from San Francisco from where a ship chartered by the American and Canadian Red Cross Societies was supposed to leave for the Far East. The Japanese refused safe conduct for the vessel.

The Canadian supplies were moved to Victoria and kept there in case the Japanese decided to give safe conduct to a Red Cross ship, this informant said.

Question Validity

VANCOUVER, June 4 (CP). — Validity of trial in Victoria Assize Court of Murray Turner, twenty-five, on two counts of retaining four tires valued at $22 is being questioned in Court of Appeal on his behalf by Stuart Henderson.

Turner was sentenced by Mr. Justice Sidney Smith to fifteen months when convicted on three counts of retaining stolen goods, involving eleven tires. Mr. Henderson contends the court had no jurisdiction to hear two of the counts as the value of the goods allegedly stolen was under $25.

Chamber Committee Recommends Changes In Airways Schedule

A recommendation that Canadian Pacific Airways trips between here and Vancouver be concentrated in the early and later parts of the day, when demand is heaviest, has been made to W. N. Horner, superintendent of reservations for the airways, by the aviation committee of the Chamber of Commerce, it was announced yesterday.

The committee pointed out that early and late trips are crowded, while accommodation is ample during the day. It was also suggested that the plane be berthed here overnight, since Victoria businessmen, who form the greater part of the trade, would be benefited, and that the plane land in Vancouver's harbor instead of at Sea Island, to eliminate the long trip to the city.

Special local air mail service also is desired, especially at midday, the committee reported.

Mr. Horner told the committee he expected the service would be improved shortly, but that difficulties were encountered in securing additional equipment.

Archives Receive Plaskett Memorial

Given and accepted in memory of Dr. John Stanley Plaskett, director of the Dominion Government Astrophysical Observatory on Little Saanich Mountain from 1918 to 1934, the Plaskett memorial case is now on exhibition in the Archives at the Parliament Buildings.

Presented by Mrs. Plaskett, the case contains a letter from Viscount Bennett commending Dr. Plaskett for "special contributions to our scientific knowledge," and for service to the Empire which, "in my judgment, merits recognition by the Sovereign." Together with Lord Bennett's letter, the case holds the insignia of the O.B.E. marked "for God and Empire," and also a bronze replica of the Henry Draper Gold Medal, awarded Dr. Plaskett for discoveries in physics. Pictures of the observatory and the seventy-two-inch telescope designed by Dr. Plaskett complete the memorial.

Police Dragging In Prospect Lake For Missing Man

Maj. A. Phillips Fishing When Lost

An unsuccessful search was conducted at Prospect Lake yesterday by members of the Saanich police force and army personnel for Major Arthur E. Phillips, 2502 Prior Street, reported missing on Thursday night following a fishing expedition.

According to police reports, Major Phillips was visiting at the home of Mrs. Mello, Prospect Lake, and had taken her canoe to go fishing. When he did not return after some time Mrs. Mello reported to police, who investigated immediately.

Yesterday morning, in daylight, they found the canoe drifting in a small bay offshore with about sixty feet of attached fishing line tangled in snags. His hat was found in the canoe.

Cpl. C. F. G. Pearce and Constable J. W. Mycock, of the Saanich force, conducted dragging operations in the lake yesterday, and will continue today. About sixty soldiers searched the country nearby.

Major Phillips came to Victoria from Winnipeg a year ago, and since last October had made his home at the residence of Mrs. K. A. Perrier, 2502 Prior Street. He had not been in the best of health recently.

He was a member of the Union Club.

Victoria Teachers Asked to Register

The Victoria office of the National Selective Service sent out forms this week to school authorities in Greater Victoria in connection with a voluntary registration scheme being undertaken to place as many school teachers as possible in industry.

The plan is Dominion-wide and is intended to help relieve the labor shortage. Vancouver Selective Service authorities issued similar forms to school teachers in that city last week, but local officials, queried at that time, stated they had not yet received instructions.

Registration of men under the second compulsory order issued by Ottawa is very slow, local officials report, although they would not give exact figures.

Sport Snapshots

Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO, June 4 (CP).—Fans at horse races have three major hobbies, favored in this order: 1, Cashing pari-mutuel tickets; 2, eating hot dogs; 3, glancing furtively at discarded mutuel tickets in case someone threw a winner away.

Joe Perlove, of The Toronto Star, suggests that in moments spared from pursuing these hobbies, fans give a kindly thought to the jockeys. The jockey is one of the great tribe of forgotten men. Most fans realize there's a little man on the horse's back as it goes by the grandstand, but they seldom give the rider a thought. Maybe some fans think he's just there to carry the colors that designate which horse is which.

Next time a jockey gets you ten for two by a nose, remember the extra pound he sweated off in a five-mile run that morning made it possible. And while your burp pleasantly between hot dogs, consider that probably Mr. Jockey hasn't eaten enough to work up a satisfying burp in months. Perlove investigated the gustatory habits of Jockey Rex Leavitt and explains how Rex keeps down to 110 pounds.

"For breakfast he has a cup of coffee. On his heavier days, a cup of tea with lemon and without sugar. For lunch, a cup of coffee, or nothing at all. For dinner he lets himself go—two, count 'em—two soft-boiled eggs and a slice of dry toast. Maybe he skinned the night before and took a couple of glasses of water. He pays for that through the skin. Must sweat it off one way or another. Or take a couple of physics."

And what do the jockey's get out of it? Perlove says one of the leading riders at Toronto Woodbine earned $225 during the seven-day meeting. That's not hay, but the jockey's agent and valet took $49 apiece. Laundry and repairs cost $20. He paid 35 cents a mount for insurance and another $7.50 to be insured before the season opened. The Government took its cut in taxes and the jock wound up with $66. That was good pickings. He was a leading rider. The losing jocks got peanuts.

Sid Fenn, the former Calgary and Saskatoon hockey star who wound up the last season with Ottawa Commandos, is likely to coach the Postal Corps team in the Ottawa Senior League next campaign . . . Roy Conacher, former Boston Bruins forward, who was with the R.C.A.F. at Saskatoon last Winter, now has been posted to Trenton, Ont., to take an instructor's course . . . the former Montreal sports writers, Vince Lunny and Bill Roper, now in the army, stage an army sports broadcast in Montreal Friday nights, interviewing sport notables now in the services.

Chalky Wright Wins Easily

Flattens Opponent In Fifth Round

NEW YORK, June 4 (AP).—Chalky Wright tonight took only five rounds to flatten Phil Terranova and thereby qualify for another shot at the featherweight championship he once held.

After flooring the youngster from the Bronx with a straight right-hand for an eight-count in the second round of the scheduled fifteen-rounder, and then punching his face to a bloody smear in the next two heats, Chalky finally pulled the trigger on his big gun at 2:46 of the fifth and Phil took the full count.

Referee Frankie Fullam probably could have counted twice that, for the twenty-three-year-old New Yorker was out cold and had to be carried to his corner.

The smallest crowd of the year, only 8,301, sat in Madison Square Garden and perspired through the show and contributed to a gross gate of $19,421.

Chalky disposed of the youngster the New York State Athletic Commission said he must take care of before getting a shot at the featherweight crown. Tentatively, he is slated to meet Champion (New York version) Willie Pep, who took the crown from him last Fall, June 25 here for the title. However, Wee Willie has a date next Tuesday in Boston with Sal Bartolo.

The New York Commission says it won't recognize that one as a title tussle, even if Bartolo should win, but Chalky insists there'd be little use in the fight if Pep leaves a piece of the crown in Boston. Meantime, he has signed for a fight July 3 with Kid Nacional in Havana.

Sport Shorts From Britain

By ALAN RANDAL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, June 4 (CP). — Sport shorts from Britain:

It looks as though the war may mean the end of field events in British sport, a department which always has been weak.

Time and again England has sent teams abroad who excelled on the track, but failed lamentably in field events, and now it seems field events are dying out altogether, not because of any lack of keenness on the part of athletes, but because so many experienced instructors are in the services and equipment is lacking.

War can affect even such things as the naming of race horses. At a recent Stockton meeting among the horses running were Squadron Leader (it was appropriate when this horse won the Wings for Victory race), Sergeant Pilot, Beau Fighter, Desert Victory and Cameron Highlander.

It was the same at Salisbury. Horses there included Victory Torch, Ack Ack, War Hero, High Command, Troop Leader and Parachutist. The King himself has gone in for the wartime names a bit, too, with his filly Open Warfare.

Fifteen years ago Sidney Orton, dog trainer, went to Ireland and became acquainted with a man whom he calls "Gerry," a gent who fancies fast greyhounds. Gerry sent over from Killarney the winner of the first Wimbledon Laurels, Kilbrean Boy, and when he told Orton he would send him the first likely greyhound he saw, Orton was pleased. Years went by and there was no word from Gerry. You couldn't blame Orton for just about forgetting him.

Then early this Spring came a telegram from Gerry saying: "I have a dog for you."

OMAHA, June 4 (AP).—Naval Ensign Nile Kinnick, all-America halfback on the University of Iowa football team four years ago, has been killed in action, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nile C. Kinnick, said today they had been informed by the United States Navy Department. Kinnick, a naval pilot, had been assigned to duty aboard an aircraft carrier.
